

PLAN FOR NEW BUSINESSES

FIFTY new jobs could be created if 17 new small business units are built at Osprey Quay on Portland.

Hayling Island-based private developer Tidebank UK and Bognor Regis-based Highglade Properties have agreed lease terms with the South West Regional Development Agency to build more than 30,000 square feet of work and office space.

The Maritime Business Centre earmarked for Plot F at Osprey Court represents more than £2 million investment in the local economy and will create 17 units from 1,200-3,000 square feet in three blocks for sale or lease aimed at small to medium sized enterprises in the marine sector.

by Harry Walton

They will be designed to the highest environmental standards and include 80 parking spaces and secure yards.

If planners approve the scheme then construction is expected to begin next spring and to be completed by Christmas 2010.

Weymouth and Portland economic development spokesman Coun Geoff Petherick said: "The potential to bring new business investment and well-paid employment to Weymouth & Portland is a major priority for the Borough Council and it is very encouraging to learn this positive news, especially in the current financial climate. It is an indicator that the local economy is working its way out of the recession.

"I believe that Osprey Quay is an excellent location for prospective business people and there is a good prospect that it will attract some highly successful new ventures to the area."

South West RDA bought Osprey Quay in 2000 and their head of regeneration Alison Hatcher said: "We're working hard to provide globally-renowned facilities at Portland."

"The RDA is investing around £40 million to create a centre for marine business and leisure activity. Osprey Quay is an excellent location and, with its ongoing regeneration, the Agency is delighted that this development will provide further opportunities for the growth of the vitally important marine sector in this area."

Highglade director Barrie Jones said there was already keen interest in the new Centre including local companies looking to move there while Tidebank director Kevin Jones said the site was a prime location for any marine-based business.

He added: "It also shows our confidence in Osprey Quay being at the forefront of the regeneration of Portland and Weymouth."

THE Mayor, Councillor Anne Kenwood (centre front) welcomes other civic dignitaries to Weymouth and Portland.

WEYMOUTH and Portland's mayor has spoken of her pleasure at welcoming dignitaries from throughout the county during a visit to highlight the borough's unique heritage.

The Mayor, Councillor Anne Kenwood, extended the welcome to other mayors and civic dignitaries as they toured the area's top spots and were introduced to hard working residents

Councillor Kenwood said: "It was with great pleasure that I welcomed representatives of other Dorset towns to the borough, to showcase some of the hard work that residents and organisations have been putting into local initiatives and to demonstrate some of the things that make Weymouth & Portland such a special place in which to work, live and visit.

"Many thanks to all who took part and helped make the day a success. I am especially grateful to those at Weymouth College who allowed their facilities to be used as a host venue for the event."

The dignitaries heard from members of Wyvern School how pupils from Wyvern, Wey Valley and St Nicholas & St Laurence schools had been working together to increase understanding of learning difficulties and the benefits of co-operative partnerships.

The borough's colourful history was also highlighted, with a visit to Portland Castle, where the group were given a talk about Portland's unique heritage.

The tour then proceeded to Weymouth College, where the visitors were given a presentation about further education opportunities, and finished with a trip to the Weymouth & Portland Catering Show at Redlands Community Sports Hub, where local businesses were able to showcase their wares to the party.

Black Rock Grill Ltd donated a special granite cooking stone to the Mayor for her charity raffle, which will raise funds for the Weymouth & Portland Scouts and the League of Friends of Weymouth and Portland Hospitals.

SUE Thomas has travelled the country and the world in her career.

Originally from Coventry, she trained as a teacher in Worcester before teaching in Birmingham and Liverpool.

After relocating to Surrey for her husband's job she began work for 3M and after five years became a Marketing Manager.

After leaving her job to raise her first child, Sue began her own business "Presentation Express", providing presentation material for major companies and designing one of the UK's first e-commerce shopping malls. Her husband Ian soon joined her and they travelled to America, South Africa and the Far East before selling the business at its peak in 2000.

After a short return to teaching in Guildford Sue and her family made their dream move to Lyme Regis.

Sue now runs Lyme Alpacas one of the biggest Alpaca farms in the country. Sue is also a published author with her first book "Alpaca Chatter" and next week will be hosting her first ever Festive Fayre offering locally made Alpaca products and raising money for the Weldmar Hospicecare Trust.

The Fayre is being held at the farm next Wednesday, December 2nd from 10am to 3pm.

■ HOW does life in Lyme compare to life in the city?

Here we seem to be busy all the time but things seem to take much longer because we are in the farming industry. When we were in London we had a 24-hour turnaround on conference services, which often meant working through the night. It was very intense for a very short length of time but now our turnaround is a year because in farming you are working at producing next year's animals.

■ WHAT is the best part of rearing Alpacas?

The best part is the birth. It's kind of like the end of a years work. You have the satisfaction as a farmer of knowing that your husbandry has been good. It's very satisfying when she gives birth to a healthy cria it's kind of nature's way of tapping you on the back and saying you're doing it right.

■ WHAT do you have planned for your first festive fayre?

For me one of the things that's key is broadening people's knowledge that we are here and encouraging people to come to the farm next year to look around. We will have some of last year's babies in the courtyard and every product, which has been made at Lyme alpacas, will have been made from their fleeces. People will be able to see the Alpacas at close quarters and appreciate what they look like, how gentle they are and then be able to go in and pick up a pashmina from the shelf and look out the window to see the animal that produced it.

■ WHO are your favourite Alpacas at the farm?

Everyone loves Bailey. He is not the most superb Alpaca but everybody loves him. He is in the book and he was also bottle reared so he is very friendly. Alpacas when they go looking for milk put their tail up and when they begin to feed their tail goes down. Because Bailey was bottle reared he runs to people with his tail up and so visitors love that when they come to the farm.

■ HOW does Alpaca wool compare to sheep's wool?

The biggest difference is that sheep's wool contains lanolin which is a grease that makes sheep waterproof. Alpacas do have an oil in their fleece but it's very light and you can't feel it. When you feel sheep's wool on the body it feels almost sticky and waxy. Because of the lack of lanolin Alpaca wool is hypoallergenic and it's also much finer. If I was to compare it with anything it is more like Merino, which is the prized sheep's breed in terms of wool. It's the standard that everyone goes for.

■ HOW do children react to your book?

They love it. They particularly like the play on words. It's about a group of alpacas from the farm who feel bored and decide to go away but the main play on words is about what to pack. You have 'Al pac a' mackerel and 'Al pac a' pencil and things like that. They like the play on words and tongue twister effect. I think local children in particular and children who are here on holiday like reading about a place where they have been.

■ ANY plans for Alpaca Chatter 2?

No but there is a plan for a second book, which is again aimed at children. It's based on a Victorian nursery rhyme, which my mum used to read to me called "Can you keep a secret" and I've often used it in school with children to make them laugh. It's kind of a bit spooky and a bit dark but children seem to like it.

■ WHERE do you see yourself in five years time?

I remember job interviews in my twenties when people asked me the same question and I used to want to be a millionaire and be lying on the beach in a different part of the world. But actually I'm more than happy in Lyme. I've had my life choices and I've had times when I've had to make the decision where I want to be and my choice was to be here. When you wake up in the morning and go to feed the animals and you look across the sea onto golden cap and the sun is coming up, you are in the best place in the world.

■ WHO would be your three dream guests at a dinner party?

Robert Hooke who is a sadly forgotten scientist and architect. He designed great buildings after the fire of London; he was an engineer, a pioneer of the microscope, an astronomer and just a genius. Frank Muir the comedian and the writer of the funniest autobiography I've ever read "A Kentish Lad" he's a comedy genius. Bill Gates, he is so influential in how we live our lives today, a computer revolutionary genius.

Boat skippers in revolt over harbour rate hikes

FURIOUS commercial boat skippers are threatening to quit Weymouth harbour in protest over an 80 per cent hike in rates.

The Licensed Skipper Association say the rise would "be the final straw that broke the camel's back" at a time when fishermen and charter boats are already being hit hard with spiralling fuel costs.

The proposed hike in rates would equate to a 20 per cent rise each year for the next four years.

Councillors, however, believe the rise would not be that high and a long consultative process would be held before a definite decision could be made.

Chairman of the Licensed Skipper Association Dave Gibson said: "People are appalled and already negotiating to move away if the proposals are agreed, people are seriously considering leaving to the port. If this goes through they will be going."

"The charter fleet are fed up fighting their corner every year. They've had to fight tooth and nail for water supply on the pontoons and they don't work half the time. They're just fed up with it. The charter fleet are already suffering greatly from the spiralling fuel costs."

"This extra hike in rates could be the final straw that broke the camel's back for many of the operators."

"The harbour has always been profitable over the years. But instead of maintaining the harbour with those profits they used it to support other community projects, which is fair enough, but not at the cost of the harbour."

He said if not careful this would drive the angling business to Portland and everyone from restaurants to bed and breakfast businesses in Weymouth would suffer from the lack of tourism.

Councillor Roger Allen, chairman of the Harbour Board Committee said nothing had been agreed yet and they were being mindful of the commercial skippers' position. "We've got to come up with a solution everybody is happy with. Nobody wants a price rise," he said.

"It needs to be looked at over a long period of time. I'm very doubtful the figures will be that high."

"We've got to be in sync with the competition, aware of competition, aware of imperatives for the various guys in business and take into account what they bring to the town generally."

"The council is certainly not in the businesses of kicking them in the teeth. We've got to look at improving their position. We certainly don't want to lose them."

Firefighters from Weymouth were called to Clivia Close, Littlemoor, where they dealt with the incident which caused severe smoke damage to the kitchen. No one was hurt.

Shelter may go as part of seafront regeneration

by Harry Walton

A BATTERED seafront shelter which has become infamous as a haunt for drunks and vagrants could soon be demolished.

The building on Weymouth Esplanade opposite the Kings Statue has been a thorn in the side of police and council staff for years.

Now it could be pulled down, cast ironwork salvaged and reused on another site and the whole area opened up to expose stunning views of the Jurassic Coast as part of the town's seafront regeneration scheme.

A report on the shelter is hoped to go before the council's planning committee on December 9th which will be asked for conservation area consent to demolish the structure.

Inspector Pete Meteau of Weymouth Police welcomed the move and said: "This shelter has certainly attracted a number of the street population including rough sleepers and people associated with problem drinking and substance abuse.

"Police welcome council plans to remove this problem area which will certainly, from a policing point of view, make it a less problematic area."

Planning committee members will be told that earlier Victorian seafront shelters are listed, but this later and larger shelter is not listed although it is in the Weymouth Conservation Area.

The report says that the structure is not in good condition and would require "significant investment" to bring it back into a reasonable and useable state.

It adds: "Being a large shelter with a significant area of seating it does have a tendency to attract inappropriate users such as rough sleepers which is detrimental to the experience of residents and visitors along Weymouth promenade.

"While the shelter does provide shelter during inclement weather there are other opportunities along the promenade for such shelter."

This will be fully explored in the current programme for improving Victorian seafront shelters which is being completed as part of Weymouth's seafront regeneration, says the report.

It adds: "Most significantly the removal of this large shelter in what is a critical location along the promenade will open up views of the beach, sea and Jurassic Coast beyond to pedestrians.

■ THE seafront shelter is used by rough sleepers and substance abusers.

"The large shelter is not of any historical interest, is in poor condition, is unduly dominant and its removal will enhance the environment, views and visitors' experience on the promenade and the immediate area."

The report suggests that demolition will recover useable material which will involve the retention and reuse locally of cast iron columns.

Demolition is backed by Weymouth Civic Society whose president Pru Bolam said: "We welcome this because it will tidy up the Esplanade and open up views of the Jurassic Coast."

Police still seeking information in dead baby on the beach case

DETECTIVES reviewing the unsolved case of a new-born baby girl found dead on Weymouth beach 27 years ago have made a DNA breakthrough.

They are now following up three phone calls from members of the public following a repeat of their appeal for the baby's parents to come forward in confidence.

Officers are also asking for a man who contacted them in August 2009 with "information of interest" to contact Dorset Police or the States of Jersey in strictest confidence.

Forensic scientists working for Dorset Police have now developed a full genetic profile of the baby and an almost complete profile of a second person they believe is likely to be the mother.

Dorset Police crime review officer Phil James, who is a former Detective Superintendent with the force said: "This is a significant development in the case."

"The forensic examinations are complete and the results are very positive."

He added that a national database search of four million people's DNA had found no match for the second person's DNA.

He urged the baby's parents and the man who contacted officers three months ago to come forward in confidence to help bring the historic case to a conclusion.

Witnesses and anyone with information should contact Dorset Police in confidence on 01202-222222, the free and anonymous Crimestoppers on 0800-555111 or States of Jersey Police CID on 01534-612200.

New tugboat for Portland

PORTLAND'S very own mini mayor was on hand to officially rename a £2.5million tugboat during a ceremony on the island.

The duty by Katherine Paisley, the daughter of the Mayor Councillor Richard Paisley, saw the seven year-old unveil Portland harbour's newest tug-boat named Maiden Castle.

The gesture was aimed at including the youngsters of the island more in the community and was the second time Katherine had helped her dad.

Katherine said: "I really liked doing it. My favourite part was unveiling the flag, that was the most enjoyable part of the day. I enjoy helping dad out."

The Maiden Castle is the port's fourth boat, all of which are named after castles in the area, and is set to double the towage capabilities of the harbour.

The boat will also be available to businesses and the Maritime and Coastguard Agency.

Councillor Paisley has been focusing on the young people of the island, including the donation of £1,600 to Osprey Leisure Centre earlier this year.

Duck sets poser

THIS "hoody" has been creating a lot of interest since he flew into Radipole Lake.

But no one knows where he came from.

The pretty duck is a Hooded Merganser, a species native to the United States and Southern Canada.

And, staff at the RSPB's centre on the lake on the outskirts of Weymouth don't know whether he has been blown badly off course or escaped from a private collection in the area.

Either way he is providing a very pretty extra attraction to the wildlife reserve as well as some sympathy as he is on his own among the mallards, tufted ducks, swans, gulls and many other native species who make up the lake's feathered community.

Anyone know of a nice lady merganser from America, looking for company?

TV formats used for educational workshop

POPULAR television programme formats were used at an educational workshop in Dorchester on how to commission services.

Delegates were invited to join in the "Strictly Commissioning" programme organised by Dorset Community Action (DCA) and Dorset Youth association at the Dorford Centre in Dorchester.

The event offered commissioners from NHS Dorset, Dorset County Council Adult and Children's Services a chance to learn how choices on which services to commission are made and what is put out to tender.

The day started with delegates being questioned on their knowledge of commissioning and procurement with DCA's version of 'Who wants to be a Millionaire', followed by 'Commissioners Question Time' where directors of commissioning and procurement answered questions from the audience.

Then 'The Friendly Dragon's Den' saw two organisations make their pitch in an attempt to involve the audience who then gave them some friendly advice.

Alannah Bolt, Team Manager at DCA said: "The event was aimed at organisations that were likely to employ staff, with a turnover of more than £25,000 and for those interested in learning about tendering for contracts even if they have no experience.

"It was a very useful event with over seventy people taking part. DCA and DYA hope that, as a result, there will be greater dialogue and partnership working between statutory and voluntary sector partners in Dorset about identification of needs, planning services and the whole process of tendering".

Campaign medals for civilian volunteers

CIVILIAN volunteers from Weymouth and Portland have been honoured for their roles in undertaking life threatening work in war-torn Afghanistan.

Mike Russell from Weymouth and Tony Pavey, 45 from Portland received their campaign medals after volunteering to work on upgrading and modifying armoured vehicles for the Armed Forces.

The two vehicle fitters spent just under seven weeks in Camp Bastion at the front line battle grounds of the bloody Helmand Province.

Mr Pavey, who has had two friends deployed to Afghanistan, said: "We went out there because it seemed like a good idea and we wanted to make some effort, personally, and to give our troops a hand.

"After reading the newspapers and watching the news it was an opportunity to make a contribution."

This was the first time the pair had been out to the country, but both said they were willing to return in the future. Mr Russell said he felt apprehensive before going but found the overall experience enjoyable.

"It got quite difficult at times, it was hard work, but looking back, it seems like a weird thing to say, but it was quite an enjoyable experience.

"It was a brilliant team of blokes that went out there and we did have an enjoyable experience working hard together.

"From our point of view, having been out there, it wasn't so scary."

The pair were amongst five workers who were honoured for their enthusiasm and support for their uniformed colleagues. The campaign medal is presented to anyone spending over 30 days at war.

MOD's top civil servant, Sir Bill Jeffrey said the work they have done, and continued to do, was literally saving lives on the front line.

Sir Bill said the pair should be immensely proud of their invaluable contributions and the medals were in recognition of the invaluable work they did, and continue to do.

by Paul Crompton

"This is yet another superb example of the crucial role civilians play in supporting current operations," he said.

DSG's primary focus is in providing expert in-house maintenance, repair, overhaul and upgrade services for the through support of the key land and air based platforms and equipment of the UK Armed Forces.

DSG's Chief Executive, Archie Hughes said: "The esteem in which you are all held by everyone in DSG for volunteering to work in what can be dangerous and life-threatening situations cannot be measured."

Help now required to get skatepark up and running

WORK on Portland's £200,000 all weather community skatepark should be finished in a matter of months following the demolition of the previous facility amid safety fears.

The initial stages of the redevelopment of the old site have begun, with members of the volunteer group tasked with overseeing the new build hoping to complete the foundation work before Christmas.

A tender for the building of the free-form, concrete skatepark, which should rival the park in Dorchester, will be sent out on December 1st.

Now organisers are hoping volunteers from all disciplines of the skate community will come forward to help with the final designs of the park.

Organiser and life long skater, Jim Blake, said: "This is a great opportunity for the kids, especially those on Portland, to work toward a park.

"I really want to emphasise this is a community project, I'm trying my best to get it up and running, but it's not all about me, it's about bringing everyone along in one place.

"We've been to skatepark contractors with the brief outline and we're at the stage of looking at all the environmental and site restrictions. All we have to do now is press the button."

Construction manger Mr Blake spent a year e-mailing people about the project before the funding was freed up through an agreement with developers at Officer's Field for a number of recreational facilities on the island.

A recent Portland Community partnership meeting agreed the skatepark should be concrete after the "unique conditions" on the island had destroyed the previous metal one.

Mr Blake said: "This is very much a community project and with the volunteer work package we hope residents input will make them feel more part of it so they will look after and police it themselves."

To volunteer for the project contact SWERDA on 0117933029.

Civic society's awards for architecture

PRAISE was heaped on a new church when it won Weymouth Civic Society's top honour for 2009.

Details of Weymouth Bay Methodist Church in Melcombe Avenue were given at the society's annual architectural awards evening in the Nothe Fort.

Guests including Weymouth and Portland Mayor Councillor Anne Kenwood were told what Saunders

by Harry Walton

Architects and Acheson Construction had achieved.

Society planning sub-committee chairman Mike Martin, who gave an illustrated description of all projects to receive an award, said the new church would serve former congregations from both Newstead Road and from Maiden Street where a previous church was destroyed by fire.

He said of the new church: "The exterior is designed to sit well in a residential area, using appropriate materials of red brick with contrasting stone features, while by contrast the interior is contemporary in style. Solid oak is used extensively.

"The versatile interior includes the main sanctuary area as well as several other rooms and the premises can be used by the general public for meeting or performances.

"This is considered a well-constructed, thoughtfully designed new building, attractively landscaped, in harmony with its surroundings and providing excellent community facilities in the impressive interior."

The annual award was presented by society President Pru Bollam and accepted on behalf of the church by the Reverend David Plumb.

The Mayor, who is a member of Weymouth Bay's congregation said she was "very impressed" by the architectural achievements being rewarded.

She added: "I think they are very good. We do things well in Weymouth and Portland."

Mr Martin then found himself switching from detailing awards to receiving one when the president awarded him honorary life membership of the Society in recognition of his long and distinguished service spanning nearly 40 years.

He said: "It is a wonderful honour. My interest with the Society has always been planning, conservation and old buildings. Weymouth is at a crossroads now and there are interesting times to come."

■ OTHER awards included a special certificate of merit for the Newton's Cove footbridge and a certificate of merit for the Portland Marina buildings at Osprey Quay.

Commendations went to a new house reconstructed from an old bungalow at 31 Icen Road, a new house at 35 Greenhill and a new café and gallery at 55A Chickereil Road.

Letters of appreciation went to Cavendish Lodge at Greenhill, Gloucester Lodge at the Esplanade, the Coal Merchant's Cottage at 29 Horsford Street, Westham Children's Centre at Radipole Lane and the refurbished Rock pub and newly-built Orchard Mews at Abbotbury Road.

■ THE Reverend David Plumb receives the Civic Society award on behalf of the Weymouth Bay Methodist Church.

Please vote for Portland!

PEOPLE across Weymouth and Portland are being urged to help a local project win a phone vote for Big Lottery Fund cash.

Portland's Living Quarry Arts Workspace and Stonework Centre is one of six West Country projects in the People's Millions final.

They are in a head to head phone vote today (Wednesday) with Plymouth Sea Cadets with lines open until midnight.

The Centre is hoping everyone in the Weymouth and Portland area will support them in the vote so they can win and get enough money to transform the Drill Hall Annex.

They want to turn it into a year-round arts facility with natural light and heated space, a new roof, a motorised roller shutter door and a ramp leading to a stone carving terrace and fossil area overlooking Independent Quarry.

Portland Sculpture and Quarry Trust is based in Easton Lane, Portland and their spokesman Paul Crabtree said: "This arts workshop and stone work centre is really needed for people in the Portland and Weymouth area.

"It will be a place for all ages and backgrounds, especially the young, to learn new skills and to connect with the geology, ecology and stone working histories of the Island within the World Heritage Site."

He pointed out that stone is at the heart of Portland and the project will help the young experience stone in a new way while offering new opportunities to benefit and enrich the lives of many other people in the UK through art, culture, nature and the environment.

The number to ring is available through www.peoplesmillions.org.uk/regions/westcountry/projects/portlands-living-quarry or the Daily Mirror.

Dog walking fundraisers

A GIRL and her dog have put their best foot and paw forward to raise money for the BBC Children in Need appeal.

Leah Newson, 12, who is a pupil at Weymouth's All Saints school, organised a charity dog walk along the Rodwell Trail from Abbotsbury Road to Ferrybridge.

Trotting along beside her was her dog, Rainey, who she has only had for a few weeks.

Leah said: "I have helped Children in Need before, but this is the first time I have done a dog walk."

She was accompanied on her walk by family and fellow All Saints pupil Ben Farmer, 13. Leah and Ben are pictured above.

Festive lights switch on SANTA Claus will be visiting Weymouth as the countdown to the festive period begins with the traditional switching on of the Christmas lights this Saturday (November 28th).

The Mayor, Councillor Anne Kenwood and cast members of the Pavilion pantomime The Wizard of Oz will hit the magic button by the civic Christmas tree in Bond Street Square to illuminate the town centre lights at around 4pm.

The procession will then move to Brewer's Quay for the light up there at around 4.30pm.

Helping with the event will be Carnival Queen Nina Rezaei and the President of the Chamber of Commerce Nigel Reed, with Weymouth Town Crier Doris Eastwood announcing the proceedings with a special cry.

From 2.30pm to 3.30pm, the St. Nicholas and St. Laurence school choir will sing by the Bond Street tree, then from inside the Brewer's Quay building from 4pm to 4.45pm.

At around 3.15pm Ms Eastwood will start the motorised procession led by the Sea Cadet band through the town before returning to Brewers Quay for the lights switch-on.

The Portland Brownies and other invited guests are due to join the Borough Council's land train, which usually runs up and down the seafront in season.

A walking collection will be taken for the Mayor's Christmas fund.

Open invitation to those who designed the library mural

WEYMOUTH'S Littlemoor Library is searching for ex-pupils of the county primary school who designed a colourful mural to mark the library's opening almost 20 years ago.

Staff would like to invite the ex-pupils to be guests of honour at a special open afternoon on December 3 between 2.30pm – 5.30pm.

The drop-in event will celebrate the library's 19 years in the heart of the community and showcase new developments such as the recent introduction of self-service technology for checking out and returning everything from books to DVDs.

Pupils at the then Littlemoor County Primary School would have been aged 10-11 years at the time but will be around 30 now and they may have children of their own.

Library Manager Pauline Jessett and assistant Lindsay Butters have both worked at the library since it opened 19 years ago.

Pauline said: "Anyone is free to drop in during the afternoon but it would be fantastic if we could get as many of the former pupils together between 4.30pm – 5.30pm to catch up and take some pictures."

Search called off

AN alert has been called off after a missing diabetic pensioner was found.

Police said Ernesto Marraffa went missing from his home in Carlton Road North for several days sparking concern because he had left behind his medication as well as his mobile phone.

The 66-year-old has now been found, said officers, who added that he had fallen ill and been hospitalised while on a visit to Exeter.

AS I SEE IT ...

Preparation time

ARE you ready for Christmas? When we played hide and seek as children; someone would shout out "Coming, ready or not". So it is with Christmas.

Somehow, as we get older, Christmas seems to come round more quickly each year. It also passes only too soon, leaving us all with the feeling that it is over once again.

There will be much activity during the next few weeks and I need hardly mention the details; but for some, it can also be a very stressful time.

As we go through our usual Christmas routines it will be all too easy to lose sight of its real meaning.

When our children were very small and opened a Christmas gift wrapped in fancy paper, we watched to see their pleasure with a new toy. To our surprise, the gift was put aside and the child played with the wrapping paper!

How easy it is for us to behave like children and think more about the seasonal trimmings than the gift.

This coming Sunday is the first Sunday in Advent. A time intended for spiritual preparation as we take time to concentrate on God's gift of Jesus. How will we receive Him this Christmas time?

■ NEW FRIENDS: members of Chesil Cove Choir visited Bristol during a Big Singing Exchange project

Singing up for an exchange project

AN EXCHANGE project between a choir from Portland and an inner city school was such a success that plans are already underway for future meeting.

The Big Singing Exchange project which The Chesil Cove Children's Choir took part in last term, was recognised by the national singing programme Sing Up.

Last term Portland's Chesil Cove Choir visited Hannah More Primary School in Bristol and to share experiences and sing their hearts out with fantastic results. For a lot of the children it was their first visit to the buzz

by Paul Crompton

of a big city, and for many of those who came to Portland it was their first view of the seaside.

Year 4 Chesil Cove pupil Chloe said Bristol was really big with lots of cars and houses, but found the children of Hannah More School really kind.

Nikki Fryer Leader of the Chesil Cove Children's Choir, said the Hannah More pupils were left amazed and open mouthed when they visited the promenade and looked out over the beach.

"When we visited Bristol, I was really surprised at how our children were shocked by the different cultures," she said. "Very quickly though, they all started to introduce each other and one group began playing football."

Children from the schools were paired together, where they swapped stories and before singing songs from the Song Bank.

Plans are already under way to have future meetings, with both schools hoping to repeat the exchange again next year.

Hoping to raise £13,000 from art exhibition

AN exhibition of artists from throughout the borough is set to be held on Portland to raise money for the island's first community studio facility.

Organisers are hoping to raise £13,000 from the sale of work during the exhibition of 50 artists to help them fulfil their dream and provide up to 36 studio spaces at the Red Factory, in Brymers Avenue, Fortuneswell.

Portland based artistes Katherine Bryan-Merret and Samantha Polley want to provide exhibition opportunities for artists wanting to build a career, space for events and teaching sessions.

So far 11 of the studios have been taken up after the centre was opened up for artists to look around. Organisers are hoping the centre will open early next year.

Artist Ms Bryan-Merret said many artists worked at home and did not mix with other artists, so the centre would be a fantastic opportunity for them to do so.

"It's gone better than I imagined, it's escalating into something amazing. We are really excited and cannot wait for the artists to move in there," she said.

"The feedback from other artists so far has just been incredible. It's been amazing, there's been so much positive feedback, everyone likes the building and have left inspired. I've been amazed at how many artists there are."

The exhibition is due to be held at the centre between December 5th and 19th with organisers hoping artists entering their work into an exhibition will donate 40 per cent of money raised from sales.

To discuss studio space at the centre, or for more information phone Ms Bryan-Merret on 07518346310 or e-

Weymouth residents are best at recycling

RESIDENTS in Weymouth and Portland have proved they are not rubbish at keeping waste down after a government report singled the borough out as the best in the country.

The Department for Environment, Food and Rural Affairs report indicated the borough's residents were the best at keeping household waste down, with an average of 4kg less waste in the last year than the next leading authority.

The report, which takes into consideration all local councils across the whole of England, also credited Weymouth and Portland residents as the best recyclers in Dorset.

Councillor Tim Munro, Brief Holder for Environment and Sustainability, said: "I am absolutely delighted with these latest figures; they prove that Weymouth and Portland residents are some of the most environmentally conscious in the country.

"I would like to sincerely congratulate all residents for making such fantastic use of the recycling collections, and thank everyone for making the job easier for our dedicated waste and recycling teams. Let's keep up the good work and continue to waste less and recycle more in 2009/10".

The report highlighted residents' excellence at keeping levels down, through composting, recycling or buying goods with less packaging.

The borough's residents only threw away only 289.6 kg of waste per head, with residents achieving to recycle 44.2 per cent of household rubbish - the national average is 36.9 per cent.

Councillor Munro said: "I am proud that residents take such pride in their local area and are making a continued effort to reduce, re-use and recycle."

Weymouth Matters

A personal View by HARRY WALTON

Beware the peril of the yellow porridge

YELLOW porridge is the latest craze to hit Weymouth and Portland.

Thousands of people have been enjoying it and thousands more will be soon.

I speak, of course, of the eagerly anticipated arrival of the new Yellow Pages which are being skilfully delivered and left out in the rain to create the aforementioned yellow porridge.

Is delivering a telephone directory such a technically demanding job that those doing it find the task too challenging to leave volumes in the dry?

Sure, not every home has a porch or a dry area and certainly not everyone can be at home to receive it when they arrive.

However, many copies in my road were just thrown down in the rain and mine was left in the open when the doormat five feet away was bone dry.

The resultant soggy slop – even with a plastic wrapper – reminded me unpleasantly of baby nappy changing and I've always felt that directories should be read rather than wrung out.

Please, show some respect

A GUN fired and shoppers in Weymouth's St Mary Street paused and bowed their heads in respect on Armistice Day.

Slightly bewildered young children were hushed by mothers, couples held hands together and senior citizens stood in quiet reflection, the harsh realities of the Second World War still clear in their minds.

Then through this silent tribute to those who gave their lives on countless battlefields came a pair of high heeled shoes.

They clacked their unwelcome rhythm down the street as the 20-something woman weaved her way in and out of people stood still in the middle of the thoroughfare.

She could have been in no doubt as to what was taking place because everyone in front of her was immobile and silent, but it didn't embarrass her into stopping and paying her respects.

Instead she walked on right down the street and out of sight shortly after which a second gun fired from the Nothe Fort to mark the end of the two minute silence.

As people resumed their shopping an elderly man looked back where the young woman had gone, shook his head and walked on slowly up the street. Maybe she'll remember to stop next year, eh?

Aggressive dogs, what comes next?

DOGS may be man's best friend but there seem to be quite a few prowling the pavements who haven't read the script.

There are enough laws about now that dog owners know they need to keep their Rover, Shep or Fido under control.

But dogs are only as well trained as their owners have made them and pedestrians can often get a shock.

I was recently walking along a residential street when a pensioner came towards me walking his little dog which he obviously cared for because he'd put a dog coat on the animal to keep it warm.

They got to within a yard or so of me when, without warning, the dog suddenly snarled and lunged at me.

My old games master would have been amazed at the balletic swerve I produced to take me out of biting range!

I was too shaken to complain but the pensioner realised some apologetic reaction was called for.... so he smiled at me!

This stunned me more than the dog's aggression, so what can pedestrians look forward to next?

Perhaps a mild complaint about damaging his wing mirror from the car driver who's just knocked you over or maybe encouragement to be more socially aware from the drunken gang who have just beaten you up. The possibilities are endless.

Fashion comes first!

STORMS have left a swathe of minor damage across Weymouth and Portland as autumn blasts to a conclusion.

Branches littered pavements, fences were blown down, shed roofs damaged and people were wrapped in layer after layer of clothing to shield themselves from winds roaring into town from the channel.

So it was with some amusement as I huddled in a shop doorway that I saw fashion overcome all discomfort... and common sense as well.

The woman in question was wearing a light fur-edged top but it ended mid-chest leaving an incredible six-inch band of bare flesh complete with ring-pierced naval exposed to gale-force winds.

While the rest of us risked hypothermia, she completed her outfit with fringed trousers challengingly cut off at the knee to provide the maximum area for wind chill.

I would have taken my hat off to her daring wardrobe...but I was too cold!

■ HEDGE cutting is being carried out on the A354 in preparation for the construction of the Weymouth relief road cycleway early next year.

Workmen are removing some hedges because they are directly in the line of the cycleway while others are being trimmed back as they would otherwise obstruct cyclists.

The clearance has seen traffic lights brought into operation outside of the peak commuting time to ensure the safety of motorists and workers.

Specialist equipment is being used to ensure that the work can be done as quickly as possible to minimise disruption to traffic. New hedges will be planted alongside the completed cycleway.

Christmas in Lyme Regis

Gearing up for the big switch-on

Although there will be no separate late-night Christmas shopping event in Lyme Regis, a number of shops have committed to staying open later when the town's Christmas lights are switched on.

In past years the late-night shopping festival has been organised by the Regatta and Carnival Committee but they have decided not to organise the event this year because of declining support.

The Christmas lights, funded by a committee led by former Mayor Barbara Austin, will be switched on at 5.30 pm on Saturday, November 28th.

The big switch-on will be carried out by the Mayor of Lyme Regis, Councillor Michaela Ellis.

During the afternoon a lantern workshop will be held at the Baptist Church between 3 pm and 4.45 pm.

Lyme Regis Junior Band will be playing next to the Rotary Christmas Tree between 4.45pm and 5.15 pm followed by the judging of the best decorated lanterns.

There will be prizes for children up to the age of 15, plus adults' lanterns, the best decorated pushchair or pram and the best couple or group.

Prizes have been donated by Judith and Colin Potthecary and a new trophy, the Starlight Perpetual Cup, will be awarded to the best lantern made in the workshop. The Lymelight Perpetual Trophy will be presented to the best overall lantern.

A quiz night in aid of the Christmas Lights Fund will be held at the Nags Head on Wednesday, December 5th, starting at 7.30 pm.

Town Mill Cheesemonger

This Christmas, the award-winning Town Mill Cheesemonger in Lyme Regis tempts cheese lovers with an array of the very best cheeses from the West Country and beyond (including - of course - Colston Bassett Stilton).

Fabulous treats and gifts include presentation cheese selections, whole cheeses, succulent chutneys, pickled fruits, crisp biscuits and the Town Mill truckle. Wallace and Gromit packs, too! Non-cheese suggestions are slate or oak cheese boards, sets of cheese knives, books on cheese and an amusing yellow Swiss cheese doorstep. All can be packed in presentation gift baskets. And if you really can't decide which cheesy item is the most appropriate, gift vouchers are also available, from £5 to £50.

To make sure that your family's favorite selection is available for you to collect at a convenient time, Justin Tunstall, chief cheesemonger, suggests pre-ordering on 01297 44 26 26.

Christmas in Lyme Regis

Primary Colours

PPrimary Colours, the popular children's toy and clothing shop located centrally on Lyme Regis's high street, should be visited well before Christmas to start the festive season. It seems to encapsulate the anticipation and excitement associated with Christmas for both the young and not so young.

Children will be captivated by the bright colours of contemporary and traditional toys alike. Popular favourites such as Toy Workshop dolls houses and Aurora hobby horses sit alongside Wheelybugs, the great sit-and-ride toy for toddlers, and the unrivalled push-long vehicles from Wow. Helpfully, parents are able to browse peacefully, whilst the little ones are occupied at the play table of Wow toys provided.

Most of the toys are educational in some way: magnetic numbers and letters, shape sorters, musical instruments, wooden map puzzles are obviously so. Also pretend play toys such as cooking sets, fairy costumes, brick construction sets, construction toys such as "Planx" and Lego brick sets are educational and fun. A delightful range of dolls - rag dolls, baby dolls and cuddly toys from key ring size to sit on ponies - is available.

Adults will find many of the stocking fillers will make them nostalgic for Christmas past: bendy bead toys, yoyos, puzzles, games, novelty pens, pencils and sharpeners, whilst children will find plenty of pocket money toys to intrigue. Sometimes grandparents, especially, feel that children will receive as many toys as they need from Santa or parents and find that the delightful bright clothing or accessories are ideal gifts. Lovely warm fleeces from Joules or Lizzie Shirt or a special Christmas or New Year outfit often fit the bill. Warm hats, scarves and gloves are also popular. Little girls love the glittery hairbands or necklaces and bracelet sets. Boys love the Ben 10 rucksacks, woolly hats or socks, or patterned wellies. Both love the range of cuddly pyjamas, dressing gowns and slippers available.

Of course, there are some lovely seasonal gifts such as wooden nativity sets with stable and a full set of the traditional wooden figures.

And somewhere between practicality and frivolity: watches, torches, night lights, toothbrush holders and teeth cleaning timers.

If you are casting about for ideas for your loved ones you will undoubtedly find a visit to Primary Colours a huge help. There's so much to describe but it's best seen in reality.

New career for Rachel

RACHEL Abbott is the latest recruit to Dorchester estate agents Elder and Froy.

Having spent 17 years flying with British Airways, she has an excellent background in customer service as well as having extensive local knowledge and a wonderfully friendly business temperament. She is already proving to be an asset to her new employers.

Elder and Froy has been established for 10 years, opening their Dorchester branch in March 2008 and their latest office in Crewkerne in February of this year.

They handle properties in the county town, including some of the new houses on Poundbury, as well as those in the surrounding villages.

They are more than happy to give free market appraisals, and pride themselves on a strong letting department.

They have the capacity to advise prospective landlords on buy-to-let investments, and can deal with the letting and managing of their properties. Demand for houses and apartments for rental is high in this area, and there is always room for more.

The staff at Elder and Froy give the customer a friendly, efficient and professional service, which is why Rachel fits in so well.

When it comes to marketing a property, whether to buy or let, they cover all angles carefully and confidently. And as an added bonus, should you instruct them to sell your property during January or February, you will be given a free case of champagne to toast your future. So bear this in mind should the urge to move house, either through desire, necessity or that unexpected lottery win, lead you to seek the services of an estate agent.

On Wednesday, December 2nd, Elder and Froy will be holding an open day to coincide with Casterbridge Christmas Cracker.

Anyone is welcome to call in for a chat over mince pies and a glass of wine. You may even be lucky enough to win a Christmas hamper in their free draw, a wonderful way to get the festive season off to a great start.

Homes around Bridport to take part in the UK's largest Open House Weekend

COUNTRYWIDE Estate Agents are holding the UK's largest Open House weekend on December 5th and 6th.

The lack of new properties coming onto the market has increased the demand for those that are available. Viewings across the UK have increased by 30 per cent in October in comparison to the same period last year, according to Countrywide Estate Agents.

Leading local agent PALMER SNELL have seen a significant increase in the number of people registering for viewings, as buyers are still actively looking for their ideal home with many snapping up those bargain properties in the run up to the end of the year.

Palmer Snell, part of the Countrywide Group operate six branches throughout West Dorset, East Devon and South Somerset and so far have seven properties from Bridport and the surrounding area taking part in the event.

Commenting on the Open House weekend, Gareth Witcombe, Manager of the Bridport Branch said: "House hunting can be an extremely time-consuming activity, the open house weekend will provide buyers with the opportunity to see a number of properties in one weekend without having to stick to a specific time frame. It also enables the seller to open their doors fully for the weekend to potential buyers without it staggering over the working week."

Over 1.4 million leaflets will be distributed to potential buyers and early indications show that buyers are eager to view the variety of properties that are available.

Those looking to view properties will need to contact their local agents and they will be supplied with a unique password which will enable them access to the property.

To coincide with the Open House weekend, Countrywide Mortgage Services are launching an exclusive 85 per cent three year fixed rate mortgage deal which will enable many buyers to access the property market. To find out more about what mortgage options are available to you, please contact your local mortgage consultant on 01308 422929 or pop into your local Palmer Snell branch.

Gareth continued: "It is not too late to add your home to the list of properties taking part in the event. Opening up your doors for one weekend could determine how quickly you sell your property."

To exclusively view the full list of properties taking part in the Open House Weekend visit www.propertywide.co.uk.

★ Lyme Leisure

Lyme Leisure shall be open for any late night shoppers on the 28th November, the same night as the turning on of the Christmas lights, they will be having a Victorian themed evening and special prices on their goods.

Lyme Leisure stocks casual and outdoor wear with a list of big name makes filling the shelves, such as Sketchers, Simple, Hush Puppies, Hi-Tec, Merrell, Teva, Tilley Hats, Leki, and Buff. There is a range of Brasher boots ideal for any keen walker who likes to trek along the Jurassic Coast along with boot socks, Buffs – which is a hat come scarf to keep you warm and walking sticks. A range of hats, scarf's, gloves and slippers and shoe cleaning equipment can also be found in amongst the rails of weird fish jumpers and fleeces, which all make lovely Christmas presents.

Something for those who like to look after their carbon footprint would be the footwear by Simple and Teva. These brands make shoes, boots and slippers from recycled goods such as hemp, tyres, inner tubes etc. The soles of these items is what is recycled from the rubber goods, they are well worth going in to have a look at.

New to Lyme Leisure are MBT's – the anti-shoe. MBT stands for Masai Barefoot Technology which is an exercise shoe to help you improve your posture, protect your knees and joints or to tone your muscles. With every purchase you are giving a DVD, which will help explain the shoe and how to use them – why not pop into Lyme Leisure and checkout the men's and ladies styles today.

★ West of England Laser Centre - Gym wont fix it!

There is nothing wrong with ageing – everyone does it! Bigger tummies, larger thighs, cellulite, softening jaw lines. This amazing new procedure can sort it all without a knife or needle in sight!

Despite dieting and exercise most of us will still have some stubborn areas of fat on our bodies that we cannot seem to remove. Well now a new procedure using radio frequency waves has been developed to improve the appearance of cellulite, reduce fat and quency waves has been developed to improve the appearance of cellulite, reduce fat and tighten the skin. All this can be achieved in a series of short, painfree visits which can even be planned in your lunch-break!

Only available to medical professionals, the Accent RF applies deep dermal heating to problem areas (effectively melting the fat). In bodyshaping mode the Accent RF will reduce fat and tighten skin on the abdomen, hips, thighs – in fact anywhere you may have difficulty in shaping up areas of excess fat.

Although ACCENT RF

radio frequency treatment is used around the globe, there are still only a small number of clinics in the UK that can provide this procedure and the great news for all of us is that this revolutionary new treatment is now available here at the West of England Laser Centre at the Nuffield Health Taunton Hospital.

★ Primary Colours

Primary Colours, the popular children's toy and clothing shop located centrally on Lyme Regis's high street, should be visited well before Christmas to start the festive season. It seems to encapsulate the anticipation and excitement associated with Christmas for both the young and not so young.

Children will be captivated by the bright colours of contemporary and traditional toys alike. Popular favourites such as Toy Workshop dolls houses and Aurora hobby horses sit alongside Wheelies, the great sit-and-ride toy for toddlers, and the unrivalled pushalong vehicles from Wow.

Helpfully, parents are able to browse peacefully, whilst the little ones are occupied at the play table of Wow toys provided.

Most of the toys are educational in some way: magnetic numbers and letters, shape sorters, musical instruments, wooden map puzzles are obviously so. Also pre-tend play toys such as cooking sets, fairy costumes, brick construction sets, construction toys such as "Planx" and Lego brick sets are educational and fun. A delightful range of dolls - rag dolls, baby dolls and cuddly toys from key ring size to sit on ponies - is available.

Adults will find many of the stocking fillers will make them nostalgic for Christmas past: bendy bead toys, yoyos, puzzles, games, novelty pens, pencils and sharpeners, whilst children will find plenty of pocket money toys to intrigue. Sometimes grandparents, especially, feel that children will receive as many toys as they need from Santa or parents and find that the delightful bright clothing or accessories are ideal gifts. Lovely warm fleeces from Joules or Lizzie Shirt or a special Christmas or New Year outfit often fit the bill. Warm hats, scarves and gloves are also popular. Little girls love the glittery hairbands or necklaces and bracelet sets. Boys love the Ben 10 rucksacks, woolly hats or socks, or patterned wellies. Both love the range of cuddly pyjamas, dressing gowns and slippers available.

Of course, there are some lovely seasonal gifts such as wooden nativity sets with stable and a full set of the traditional wooden figures.

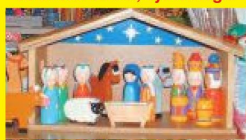

And somewhere between practicality and frivolity:

watches, torches, night lights, toothbrush holders and teeth cleaning timers.

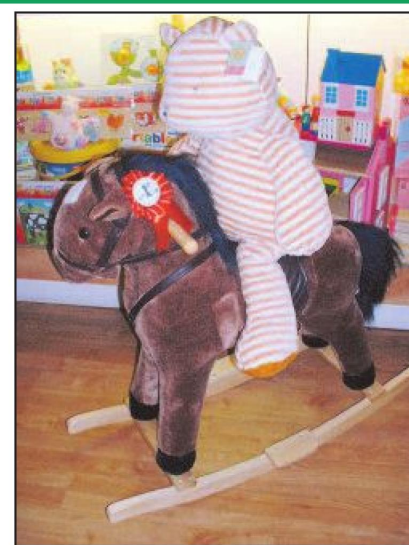

If you are casting about for ideas for your loved ones you will undoubtedly find a visit to Primary Colours a huge help. There's so much to describe but it's best seen in reality.

Christmas Food & Drink

★ The Wheelwright Inn, Colyford

It's not often that one discovers a 'Gastronomical Aladdin's Cave' in the heart of the South West. A genuinely warm and homely welcome, an eyebrow-raising menu selection, masterminded by a close-knit team of chefs who believe passionately that offering the best food revolves entirely around the very freshest, locally sourced ingredients, simply prepared and elegantly presented.

"It's as simple as that really" says Head Chef Damon Ralph "we wanted to be honest about what we do in the kitchen, get back to basics with seasonal produce and give diners traditional dishes with a modern twist". And that's exactly what they have done at The Wheelwright, in abundance. Their pan-fried local scallops with black pudding, celery and apple puree, is inspired. Roasted loin of monkfish, wrapped in Parma ham served with a glorious shellfish casserole, pure genius. And the panna cotta with spiced plum compote, to die for (many times over). Even their homemade chocolates are sheer delight.

"One of our senior chefs here is a confectionary nut, we asked him to really 'push the boat out' and create something totally unique". But you don't have to go for a full sit-down meal. "We have a great selection of very popular deli-boards on offer from our bar menu" says owner Gary Valentine, "or why not just pop in for a festive, freshly baked mince pie, brandy butter and a latte, in front of one of our roaring open fires, you are all more than welcome". For bookings please contact Gary or Toni on 01297 552585.

★ Colyton Butchers

Expert sausage-maker Anton Bolton from Colyton Butchers was celebrating success at the recent Champion of Champions awards at Butchers Hall in London which is classed as Butchers holly grail, the event took place last month and the guest speaker was the Black Farmer, this is Anton's third visit in 5 years so they must know a good banger when they see one.

Champion of Champions sees award-winning sausages from across the UK go head-to-head to pick out the best banger in the UK. Anton's West-country sausage scored 100% in the regional event which saw him go through to the Champion of Champions at Butchers Hall.

Out of 26 finalists sausages 6 cooked and 6 un-cooked the judges were left with 5 they had awarded 99% to and then needed to pick a winner unfortunately Anton's raw sausages were slightly inconsistent in size (millimetres) otherwise they would have given him 100% and he would have won. After a cook off the overall winner of the final was Allan Bennett a 74 year old sausage veteran from Wolverhampton who is a sausage guru and what he doesn't know about making a winning sausage isn't worth knowing.

After the event the judges said Anton's West-country would come second, so not bad in knowing a sausage from Colyton in Devon in the next best in the whole country.

Anton said we are delighted with this achievement, you only get this chance by winning major regional competitions and assessments and I am now perfecting my skills and recipe so I can go one better next time and win the best sausage in the UK.

Anton only uses select cuts from free range pork to make his winning sausages they are available in large pork, pork chipolatas, and sausage meat. The sausages are available to customers in the shop daily and at select retailers in the area, if you would like to stock these prize winning sausages or use them in your food business we will be only too pleased to help you.

★ Thistlegate House

Christmas at Thistlegate House is a very traditional and festive affair with the house being fully decorated with holly from the gardens, seasonal decorations and four or five trees laden with lights, clusters of varying coloured baubles, numerous gifts for the clients and staff and of course angels.

Every year June and John visit a local farm specialising in the sale of trees especially grown for their use at Christmas to search for and select a large and attractive tree for the main lounge at Thistlegate House and their clients enjoyment. Once located June and John physically fell the chosen specimen themselves and manhandle it through the wood and finally transport it back home where it is sited, decorated and remains within the lounge until twelfth night. Throughout the week leading up to Christmas day, entertainment is provided in the form of visiting musical entertainers, local school children's choirs, bell ringers, adult choirs and religious service.

During this busy week of preparation the chef works overtime in order to keep up with the supply of homemade mince pies, tarts, cakes and pastries for all of the clients, clients' families, friends and all the visitors to Thistlegate House during this joyous time.

On Christmas day morning clients, together with their families and friends are invited to join both June and John together with their staff in the lounge for mince pies and a glass of sherry before excitedly opening all of the gifts that have been received and placed beneath the tree. The chef meanwhile prepares a traditional roast turkey luncheon with all the trimmings (however he is not left out of the morning's celebrations) and both June and John join their clients in the elegant dining room and enjoy conversation and reminiscing as well as fun and laughter with mottos from the crackers.

Following lunch a quiet period of rest and perhaps a snooze before afternoon tea and of course the queen's speech. For those clients and relatives who have the stamina a late afternoon quiz is organised comprising of two teams one led by June the other by John with enthusiastic rivalry.

A light Christmas day high tea follows with June and John joining their clients once again in the dining room.

After a good night's rest Boxing Day has a similar format with June and John once again joining their clients for both luncheon and high tea. The staff at Thistlegate House are to be applauded for their dedication and commitment in selflessly providing their clients with traditional family based Christmas celebrations.

June and John would like to thank all of their staff together with all of the outside health care professionals who support and assist in the excellent care that the clients of Thistlegate House receive and to wish everyone a very merry Christmas and a Happy Healthy Prosperous New Year.

The latest Technology in footcare 3D optical laser foot scanner
NOW OPEN IN NEW PREMISES IN LYME ROAD, AXMINSTER

An Axminster based clinic's 3D Optical Laser Foot scanner and Computer Diagnostic System, some of the most advanced in the world, form part of an innovative service to alleviate foot pain.

Feet can cause us real pain and we may not even know it!

We only have one pair of feet and they take us everywhere so it pays to take good care of them, but most of us don't give our feet a second thought that is until they hurt!

Once our feet are hurting most of us have no idea how to eliminate the pain. Untreated this can lead to long term problems, many problems associated with the foot are the result of a faulty relationship between the bones and the muscles of the foot. Misalignment can result in a number of problems, commonly flat feet, persistent ankle sprains, bunions, corns, calluses, even symptoms that one would not normally associate with feet such as stress and pain in the back, neck, hips and knees.

SO WHAT ARE ORTHOTICS?

Orthotics, are special footwear inserts that are individually designed and manufactured to ease your pain and discomfort. They promote the proper alignment of the feet, restore balance, improve sports performance and alleviate pain in the knee, hip and lower back.

HOW DO ORTHOTICS WORK?

As your foot sits comfortably on our orthotic it is gently and consistently directed into the optimum position allowing the foot to function correctly when walking, running and standing.

AT HEALTHY FEET CHIROPODY AND PODIATRY OUR PRESCRIPTION ORTHOTICS ARE MADE TO THE HIGHEST STANDARDS AVAILABLE USING MODERN TECHNOLOGY, ARE COMPLETELY ACCURATE AND PROVIDE THE VERY BEST CORRECTIVE TREATMENT AVAILABLE. Our 3D Optical Laser Foot Scanner replaces the need for traditional plaster casting and drawing around the foot, methods still in use today which are messy, inaccurate, costly and utilizing materials of limited life, requiring frequent replacement. We successfully treat many foot conditions but one common foot condition we see a lot of at our Axminster based clinic is PLANTAR FASCIITIS. When your first few steps out of bed in the morning cause severe pain in the heel of your foot, you may have plantar fasciitis (fashee-EYE-tiss). It's an overuse injury affecting the sole or flexor surface (plantar) of the foot. A diagnosis of plantar fasciitis means you have inflamed the tough, fibrous band of tissue (fascia) connecting your heel bone to the base of your toes. You're more likely to get the condition if you're overweight, or if you have a job that requires a lot of walking or standing on hard surfaces. You're also at risk if you walk or run for exercise, especially if you have tight calf muscles that limit how far you can flex your ankles. People with very flat feet or very high arches are also more prone to plantar fasciitis. The condition starts gradually with mild pain at the heel bone often referred to as a stone bruise. You're more likely to feel it after (not during) exercise. The pain classically occurs again after arising from a midday lunch break.

If you don't treat plantar fasciitis, it may become a chronic condition. You may not be able to keep up your level of activity and you may also develop symptoms of foot, knee, hip and back problems because of the way plantar fasciitis changes the way you walk.

REMEMBER YOUR FEET ARE THE FOUNDATION FOR YOUR ENTIRE BODY.

Symondsbury School Christmas Fair will be better than ever

One of West Dorset's most popular school Christmas fairs is going to be even better this year, with a combination of old favourites and new attractions taking centre stage. Alongside the ever-popular "jolly jars" stall, where this year every ticket is a winner, the Friends of Symondsbury School have put together a combination of activities and games to make for a really fun evening.

Santa's grotto is a must – twinkling lights will lead you through a magical land of reindeer food and elves to the man himself. There is also a fantastic array of gifts and Christmassy things to eat and buy, including homemade sweets, a real gingerbread house and the opportunity to make your own cards and gift tags.

Don't forget, tickets will be on sale for the School's grand draw, with a £100 top prize. There will also be plenty of refreshments, including mulled wine, top quality hot dogs and mince pies, and maybe even some Christmas music.

The Fair takes place at Symondsbury Primary School on Friday, December 4th, from 6pm. For more details contact Sarah Earwicker on 01297 489905.

Yee-ha! Go Wild!

DORCHESTER Town FC is giving you an early chance to go wild before the festive season with a Wild Wild West Christmas Party.

The event to be held in the Prices Marquee at the Jewson Stadium is a chance to let your hair down with a buffet and disco and also a chance to try your skill at riding the bucking bronco – preferably before you eat and drink!

Sponsored by Blacknoll Ltd and Wayne Paice Carpentry & Building Services it also includes a free drink on arrival and a prize for the best dressed outfit. The event which is on Saturday December 5th costs £10 a ticket and starts at 7pm.

Tickets can be purchased in advance by calling Geoff on 01305 262451 or by e-mail: manager@dorchester-townfc.co.uk.

WALTZ A WAY TO SPEND AN EVENING

IF you've ever felt a twinge of envy watching the hoofers on Strictly Come Dancing strutting their stuff to a live band, prepare yourself.

For the Rex Trevett Big Band is coming to the Bridport Arts Centre for a night of entertainment the old fashioned way.

With classics such as Christopher Columbus, That's Aplenty, Rock Around the Clock, Mac the Knife and Jeepers Creepers, there's something for everyone to enjoy if you're a dancer or would rather just listen.

The event is themed around all American tunes to celebrate Thanksgiving on November 26th.

But you really don't have to be a Yank to enjoy some of the very greatest hits of yesteryear. And while the music may be from across the pond, all the money raised will be going to local causes for the We Heart BAC appeal and the Rex Trevett Big Band Memorial Fund.

So get your glad-rags on, slip on those dancing shoes and head to the BAC for a brilliant night out.

Raise the roof for charity

THERE is still a chance to enjoy a rousing evening of entertainment this Saturday (November 28th) whilst raising money for local charities when the Rotary Club of Bridport present Sing Sankey at the United Church in East Street, Bridport.

The evening features the Weymouth Salvation Army Citadel Band who will present a programme of hymns and songs written by American gospel singer and composer Ira David Sankey which form a large part of the Salvation Army repertoire we are all used to hearing.

Favourites like 'The Old Rugged Cross', 'Stand up, Stand up for Jesus' and 'Praise My Soul' are guaranteed to warm the audience on a cold winter's evening.

In addition John Dobinson, president of the Brit Valley Rotary Club, and his wife Jilly will perform 'Make me a channel of your peace, and 'Rock My Soul'.

Former BBC producer David Taylor and David Symes, Bandmaster of the Weymouth Salvation Army Band, are the comperes for the evening.

All the proceeds will be split between Julius House (40%), Chancery House Day and Social Centre (40%) and the remaining 20% to local Rotary charities.

The event which starts at 7pm promises to be a great event and with tickets priced at just £5 each something not to be missed.

So go along and raise the roof and help a charity!

A Christmas Market in Bridport this weekend

Christmas wreaths and decorations made from old, old fabrics will also be there. Look out for lots of treats to give or keep, preserves and handmade small christmas cakes to share... maybe!

FORD FOCUS RS IS THE NUTS CAR OF THE YEAR

THE Ford Focus RS continues to impress the critics, with the award of another major title – the Nuts magazine Car of the Year 2009 trophy.

This latest prize joins the Scottish 'sporting' Car of the Year 2009 award presented earlier this month, and is set to accelerate orders for Ford's definitive hot hatch.

More than 2,000 orders have been placed, from a total UK production of around 4,000 vehicles.

A fan of the Ford Focus RS, Nuts magazine Deputy Editor, Adam Ralph, said: "Our readers felt the Focus RS represented all that a young bloke looked for in a new car – it's affordable, a real head turner and ridiculously good fun to drive."

On hearing the news, Ford's Team RS chief engineer, Dirk Densing said: "The Focus RS project set out to deliver optimal high-performance road car technology together with the practicality expected of a Focus. We feel we have achieved this and are delighted that Nuts readers agree."

NEW HONDA CR-V PRICING ANNOUNCED

HONDA (UK) has announced competitive new pricing and a generous specification for its new-look Honda CR-V, which goes on sale in January 2010.

Built in Britain at Honda's plant in Swindon, the new model will be available with a new diesel powerplant – the i-DTEC – and an eagerly awaited automatic gearbox for diesel models. The top-selling SUV's popular looks have been refreshed with a distinctive new front bumper, grille and revised rear bumper. NVH levels are improved, with increased sound deadening around the engine and cabin, adding to the high-quality refinement of the CR-V and making it an even quieter and more relaxing car to drive. Inside the cabin, upgraded fabrics and plastics have been used to give a more premium finish; a new audio console design has been introduced.

Like the previous model, the new 2010 CR-V offers unrivalled equipment levels that, along with its ample cabin, split-level boot and 'car-like' handling, have made it so popular. SE grades now come fitted with newly-designed 17-inch alloy wheels as standard as well as air conditioning, auxiliary socket, cloth upholstery and power-heated door mirrors.

ES grades get 18-inch 10-spoke alloy wheels, auto-dimming mirror, cruise control, double-deck cargo space, electric folding mirrors, half leather and Alcantara heated seats, headlight washers, front fog lights, leather steering wheel and gear knob, rear parking sensors, unique interior inlay trims and USB connector for an iPod, over and above the SE model.

Top spec EX models are differentiated by full body-coloured bumpers and come equipped with DVD voice-activated satellite navigation with premium audio and subwoofer, full leather upholstery with front heated seats, HID Xenon headlights and auto headlight on function, panoramic roof, rain sensor, reverse tilt mirror and 8-way driver power seat in addition to the ES specification.

The 2.0-litre petrol CR-V is also Euro 5 compliant, but remains unchanged from the previous model, producing 150PS at 6,200rpm and torque of 192Nm at 4,200rpm.

The CR-V has always been recognised for its high-specification equipment levels and sector-leading residual values, and the new car's value-for-money package should continue to impress.

Technology packs which include Satellite Navigation and Bluetooth Hands-Free Telephone, are available on all SE and ES grades for £1250.

Three new paint colours are available for 2010, Premium White Pearl, Urban Titanium and Alabaster Silver. Five other metallic paints are available – Crystal Black, Polished Metal, Sparkle Grey, Deep Bronze and Deep Sapphire Blue. Milano Red is the solid colour available as standard.

Two active safety systems continue to be available on the CR-V and are unique to the SUV segment. Adaptive Cruise Control (ACC) is a radar-controlled cruise control function which maintains a set distance to the vehicle in front; Collision Mitigation Braking System (CMBS) predicts collisions and warns the driver, before applying braking and retracting the front seatbelts if the situation becomes critical. These systems are optional on EX models.

The CR-V will continue to be built at Honda of the UK Manufacturing in Swindon, where British workers proudly produce the SUV for over 60 countries. The revised CR-V goes on sale on 5 January, 2010 but dealers will be taking orders from 1 December 2009

The new BMW 5 Series Saloon

- ▼ Sixth generation of BMW's class-leading vehicle revealed
- ▼ Auto Start-Stop technology debuts on the Five
- ▼ Eight-speed automatic transmission available
- ▼ Highest ever level of standard specification for BMW 5 Series
- ▼ Suite of new technology showcased
- ▼ Innovative new online activities for launch

BMW is pleased to announce the next chapter in the story of one of the most successful cars ever to have been produced. The new, sixth generation BMW 5 Series Saloon offers customers the perfect blend of class-leading powerplants, unrivalled driving dynamics and a sporting yet elegant design to set a new benchmark in the executive class.

The very first BMW 5 Series Saloon appeared in 1972 and every incarnation since then has raised the bar in terms of design, engineering or technology. BMW's first diesel engine appeared in a Five, while other generations hailed the introduction of innovations such as all aluminium suspension, Head-up Display and Active Steering. The latest BMW 5 Series Saloon similarly sets new standards and is the first in its class to feature Auto Start-Stop, an eight-speed automatic transmission and a double-wishbone front suspension.

The new BMW 5 Series Saloon has been styled to reflect its almost perfect 50:50 weight distribution with beautifully balanced proportions, short overhangs, a coupé-like flowing roofline and a long, contoured bonnet. The familiar BMW kidney grille stands upright alluding to the car's sporting pedigree.

The latest BMW has the longest wheelbase in its class at 2,968mm, creating a greater feeling of interior space. This translates into an extra 13mm of knee room for rear passengers, compared to the previous 5 Series, while customers specifying the optional glass sunroof benefit from a larger roof panel that allows light to flood in highlighting the generous rear cabin. The BMW 5 Series Saloon is as practical as it is elegant and has a 520-litre boot with the option to specify 40:20:40 split folding rear seats.

Inside, the cabin features many of the sporting but luxurious quality and comfort features found in the BMW 7 Series. Inclined seven degrees towards the driver, the asymmetrically designed centre console ensures that all controls are comfortably within the reach. The multifunctional steering wheel has been simplified, putting all of the function keys in one hand and infotainment in the other.

The use of Black Panel technology on the instrument panel and centre console, as seen in the BMW 7 Series and the 5 Series Gran Turismo, adds an extra touch of luxury to the cabin. A signature piece of BMW design, Black Panel technology integrates the centre console into the trim of the car. High-resolution electronic displays are visible when needed, but when not in use discreetly blend in to form an elegant black band across the interior.

The biggest seller in the UK is predicted to be the 520d. This 1,995cc four cylinder diesel features the latest generation common-rail direct injection and a turbocharger with variable turbine geometry which increases power and efficiency. Producing 184hp at 4,000rpm, the 520d accelerates from zero to 62mph in 8.1 seconds before going onto a top speed of 141mph (140 for automatic transmission). The peak torque of 380Nm from just 1,900rpm ensures that progress is smooth and swift in any gear. Fuel economy is exceptional with a combined fuel consumption figure of 56.5mpg (54.3mpg)* and a CO2 rating of 132g/km (137g/km)*, making the BMW 520d the most efficient car in its segment.

The BMW 5 Series Saloon is offered with a wealth of optional equipment to enhance driver safety, comfort and enjoyment. Head-up Display, Night Vision with pedestrian recognition, Lane Departure Warning, Lane Change Warning, Speed Limit Info and two rear entertainment packages are all available.

In the UK the BMW 5 Series Saloon will be offered with four optional equipment packages. BMW Business Advanced Media and BMW Professional Multimedia packages include BMW Navigation, BMW ConnectedDrive—Assist and Online and Voice control. Dynamic package includes 19-inch alloy wheels, Sport seats, Anthracite headlining, Sport leather steering wheel and High-gloss exterior trim. The Visibility package includes Adaptive headlights, Xenon headlights, High-beam Assist and headlight wash.

The new BMW 5 Series Saloon goes on sale 20 March, 2010.

IAM flood advice for drivers

WITH more flooding predicted, the IAM (Institute of Advanced Motorists) has today (18 November) issued advice to drivers.

IAM Chief Examiner Peter Rodger said: "If the journey is unavoidable, motorists should take extra precautions when dealing with severe surface conditions. Torrential rain brings with it visibility problems as the car mists up in seconds."

Advice for motorists considering driving in flood conditions:

- Don't go in if the water's obviously too deep or flowing too quickly: consider an alternative route.
- If you have to drive through water try to drive in the highest section of the road and don't set off if a vehicle is travelling in the opposite direction. Leave time and space for each other, so you don't swamp other drivers.
- Drive only fast enough to create a small bow wave in front of the vehicle - driving at speed may be dangerous to other vehicles or pedestrians.
- Keep going once you have started - make sure you have a clear run, put the car into first gear, keep the revs high and set off. Don't go in if you can't see a way out on the other side.
- Do not take your foot even slightly off the accelerator, as this will allow water to travel up the exhaust pipe.
- As you go through the water, slip the clutch if you can. After you come out, dry brakes gently before you need them - the best way is to lightly apply the brake as you drive along for a few seconds.
- At the other side, keep moving and continue to rev the engine to clear any water from the exhaust

PERRY STREET LEAGUE

with HOWARD LARCOMBE

BEAMINSTER TOO HOT FOR BALTI

Netherbury in Division One cup final

THE Perry Street League clubs were once again hit by the stormy weekend weather.

DORSET INTERMEDIATE CUP
ROUND TWO

Beaminster are the sole PSL torch carriers after White Horse, Lyme Regis and Charmouth all fell at the second round hurdle.

Horse went down 3-1 at Bournemouth League outfit Dorset Knob. The hosts took an early lead before Richard Pincombe levelled but it proved a false dawn as the knobs restored their lead before the break and cruised home with a third in the second period.

Charmouth failed to find the net for the third game in a row and were comfortably beaten 4-0 by Ferndown Town at Barrs Lane.

A stark contrast for Beaminster who maintained their fine form with an impressive 5-1 win away at Dorset Division One side Balti House. The Rainbows, who lifted the trophy back in 1993-94, led by Adam Gale's 10th goal of the season at the interval.

Man-of-the-Match Tom Hounsell doubled the lead soon after the restart and Andy Southern made the result safe midway through the half. The hosts then pulled a goal back from a disputed penalty following a handball decision that mystified the visitors. No matter, Hounsell bagged his second and Murray Legg rounded things off with his 11th of the season.

Beaminster's reward is a home tie with either Stickland United or Allendale in the last 16 on December 12th.

Perhaps the most action-packed tie took place at the Davey Fort where Lyme Regis crashed out 4-3 at the hands of Blandford Sports.

Lyme, still missing the injured Adam Caddy, dominated the first half-hour and should have been away and clear. But a combination of three efforts kicked off the line, the woodwork, and some woeful finishing left the scoreline goal less. The visitors broke the deadlock in the 34th minute after a poor defensive header by the normally reliable Luke Clifton. A mistake and the other end five minutes later presented Julien Simier with the opportunity to waltz past the Sports' keeper and roll the ball into an empty net.

A goal from livewire Blandford striker Sam Aygar in the 69th minute then sparked a goal rush. A minute later Seaside's skipper Dom Rowe got on the end of a Steve Batey long throw-in to head home the equaliser.

But Aygar struck twice more, the second after Rowe had sold keeper Ashley Caddy short with a miss-hit back pass, in the space of four minutes to complete a superb hat-trick. Although his exuberant goal celebrations right in front of the packed clubhouse didn't go down too well with Fort faithful!

Simier pulled another goal back for Lyme two minutes from time but the Blandford side, made up entirely from squadies from the local army camp, weren't to be denied. Lyme Manager Robin

Townsend was left scratching his head at the final whistle, he said: "I'm not too sure how we lost that, everybody put the effort in - we just failed to take all the chances that we created in the first-half and paid the penalty." Top performer for Lyme was keeper Caddy who pulled off some superb saves.

DIVISION ONE CUP
SEMI-FINAL:

IN the same way that Tottenham Hotspur look forward to years ending in 1, there must be something about years ending in 0 for Netherbury when it comes to the Division One cup.

The Ambers have won the competition twice, in 1959-60 and 1969-70 - and booked a place in 2009-10 cup final where they will face either Ilminster Town Colts or Forton rangers - with a 4-0 victory over Perry Street Reserves.

Aside from a couple of fine saves from Lee Cuff in the first-half the hosts dominated the tie with affine all-round team performance. They were two goals to the good at the break courtesy of Mark Cuff and Dan Rawlings who netted a penalty for his fourth goal in three games.

James Sayers made sure there would be no slip-ups with the third and Robbie Wayland completed the scoring with his first goal for the Netherbury first team having previously starred in the now defunct Reserve team.

Manager Andy Loudon was left purring by the performance, he said: "I thought we were really good today and thoroughly deserved the win, it's also nice to have extended our unbeaten run to 10 games."

DAISY HUTCHINGS CUP
ROUND TWO

THERE was a giant-killing in the second round tie at Jocelyn Park as third Division form side Crewkerne Rangers beat Chard Rangers, struggling near the foot of Division 5-3.

DIVISION THREE

FIVEHEAD United leap-frogged over opponents Millway Rise Reserves and up into third spot with a 5-2 victory. Star of the show for Fivehead was ex-Charmouth striker Rob Cooke who bagged four with Warren Gabbidon chipping in with a single. Earlier Danny Larcombe and Keith Forshey had given the Devonians a 2-0 lead before Cooke intervened.

Ex-Drimpton man Dean Hight opened the scoring against visiting Lyme Regis Bantams in on his debut for Misterton Reserves. Tom Rowe gave Missy a two goal advantage at the break.

Rowe scored again and Alex Stevenson who had a sparkling first-half on the left wing netted number four. Ben Strong pulled one back but Steve Martin completed the nap-hand for the hosts who move up to fourth.

DIVISION FOUR

HINTON Reserves clash with fellow high-fliers Waytown Hounds was abandoned at half-time with Hounds 1-0 up, the match will be replayed.

LYME REGIS GOLF
with Steve Percival
THE annual home match between Lyme Regis Seniors and Bridport finally took place, after two previous attempts were abandoned due to bad weather, on Tuesday 17 November.

In blustery wind conditions and played on a course reduced to 9 holes, the Lyme golfers were unable to capitalise on home advantage and local knowledge. In fact the only pair to win their match were Cyril Gallie and Colin Conn who won with the final putt of the round. Meanwhile Vernon Vear and Richard Thompson, despite playing well, were only able to halve their match against the Bridport pair of Malcolm Lawrence and Chris Roberts.

The final result being an overwhelming victory for the Bridport Seniors. However, both teams look forward to renewing the fixture next season.

The decidedly unfavourable weather conditions on Sunday 22 November deterred all but a stalwart 18 golfers. Played as a Stableford competition over 18 holes in extremely wet and windy conditions, the first of the Turkey Trot events resulted in only eight players completing successfully. The early starters experienced the worst of the conditions with driving rain and gusty winds well in excess of 30 MPH at times and some, after only two holes play, decided that discretion was the better part of valour and left the course.

Conditions improved later in the morning but the strong gusty wind and wet conditions underfoot caused most of the participants problems on the more exposed parts of the course. However, some, Peter Spiers and Danny Hopkins in particular, did manage to card impressive results. Peter played to his 14 handicap to card 36 points in first place and Danny, also playing off 14, was a close runner up with a very creditable score of 35 points. In third place with 31 points with a handicap of 7 was Philip Webb.

CRICKET NEWS AND ROUND-UP

DUNHAM STEALS THE SHOW

SIXTEEN-YEAR-OLD James Dunham stole the show at the recent Dorchester Cricket Club awards by winning the 1st team bowling award in his first season in the top flight.

WELL DONE | James Dunham receives his award from Rob Turner

Dunham was drafted into the side at the start of the season through unavailability of several of the seasoned players and secured a permanent place in the side with a series of excellent performances that belied his years, taking 18 wickets with an average of only 14.78.

In contrast, Dave Maslan who had been a prolific batsman for the county side in the late 90s returned this season and picked up the first team batting award with an average of over 50.

Ex-Somerset and England wicket-keeper Rob Turner was the guest speaker at the dinner dance awards night held at the Princes marquee, and he entertained more than 100 players, vice presidents, sponsors and other guests with jokes and story's from his playing career.

After winning the Premier League under Martyn Richard's leadership for the first time in over twenty years the first team finished a credible fourth this campaign whilst the second team hampered by work commitments of experienced players who had played in the previous season were relegated from Division 1 by one bonus point.

However the young third team replicated their 2008 success by winning the Division Seven Championship, remaining unbeaten and only dropping an incredible six bonus points during the season.

The prestigious club "All Rounder" award went to a deserved Rob Waite who had a tremendous season finishing second in the first team, batting, bowling averages and second for most catches, whilst the performance of the season award was won by Dan Belt for his 150 for the 2nds against Shrton.

The second team batting honours went to captain Ollie Bennett whilst Ian Sibley picked up the bowling award.

Prolific run machine Jae Miller, with 662 runs at an average of 47 won the third team batting award with Lloyd Mitchem picking up the bowling prize by taking 21 wickets for an average of only 12.

Third team skipper Pete Tucker said: "Our thanks once again go to our sponsors Hearn Group for supporting us throughout the season and Emma, Vic, Ed and Emily from the Victoria Hotel for looking after all the teams after the matches.

"We must of course not forget to thank our valuable scorers and un-◆ Durston on Walbridge wanted list DORSET are believed to be monitoring the movements of former Somerset all-rounder, Wes Durston.

The 29-year-old has just been released by the Cidernem and is expected to be available to play Minor Counties cricket next summer.

Durston made 34 first class appearances for Somerset, scoring 1,726 runs and taking 24 wickets. In one-day cricket, he took 19 wickets in 56 games, scoring 952 runs.

Durston manager Sean Walbridge is keen to bring an experienced all-rounder to Dean Park and Durston is likely to feature high on former Dorchester captain's wanted list.

Dorset man the final Sunderland PGA Player of the Month award.

SWIMMING | WEYMOUTH Swimming Club turned in a solid performance in their latest National League fixture when the resort youngsters finished second behind Devonport Royal in Division Two, Gala One at Blackwell. Weymouth collected a creditable 167 points, just four behind their Devon rivals.

Meanwhile in Division One, Gala Three, Dorchester-based West Dorset Warriors claimed fourth spot behind winners Plymouth Leander B.

WEYMOUTH SPEEDWAY

Bridger off to Peterborough

White-Williams on way back home?

JAMES White-Williams is set to leave the Wildcats.

The flying reserve is subject of a full transfer request from Weymouth's National League rivals Newport Hornets. The 20-year-old recently attended a training session at Hayley Stadium, fuelling speculation he is about to join his home town side.

Newport promoter Nick Mallett said: "We would be delighted to announce James White-Williams as our fourth signing for 2010 so far.

"But at the moment we will have to wait. James has applied for a transfer and so we expect to hear some news in the coming weeks."

Losing White-Williams will be a big blow to the Wildcats. The youngster turned in some superb performances at the bottom of Weymouth's line-up and got stronger as last season progressed.

But if he does move, he'll line-up alongside another ex-Wildcat, Tim Webster, who joined the Hornets from the Wessex Stadium last month.

Mallett added: "We, like all National League clubs, need a strong asset base and James fits the bill perfectly."

and Lukas, who has agreed to ride for us next season, with Lewis going in the other direction.

"Once Lewis made it clear he wanted to leave, we did not want to stand in his way. At the same time, he is a quality young British rider and we are not going to let him go for nothing and our priority was always a good number one."

◆ Lewis Bridger

Bridger moves to Peterborough

PETERBOROUGH Panthers have confirmed the signing of former Weymouth star Lewis Bridger.

Eastbourne Eagles will loan Bridger to the Panthers, for the 2010 season - whilst in return Peterborough have allowed them to talk to two of their assets, Lukas Dryml - who enjoyed a season on loan at the South Coast club last season, will return to the club, whilst Eastbourne have also expressed an interest in Hans Andersen, and are now in talks with the Grand Prix star.

Indeed, reports claim that Andersen and Dryml could become Eastbourne assets in exchange for Bridger, who shot to stardom riding for the Wildcats as a 15-year-old.

"It was something I was intending to keep under wraps until I had agreed terms with the Eastbourne management but unfortunately that wasn't to be," said Panthers owner Rick Frost.

"In a reciprocal deal with Eastbourne we have given them permission to speak to some of our retained riders, including Hans Andersen and Lukas Dryml.

"I am pleased Lewis will be joining us in 2010. He is an exciting and talented rider who I have no doubt has a big future in the sport, and of course he is a British rider which is something we have been sadly lacking in the past."

Eagles chief Trevor Geer confirmed: "Hans seems quite keen. We are hoping to do some sort of deal with Hans

Wildcats talent spotting

WEYMOUTH will be hoping to discover speedway's next British superstar when they start running their winter training schools.

The Wildcats have received full planning permission from West Dorset District Council to hold eight sessions between now and March. The application was passed without opposition, much to promoter Phil Bartlett's delight.

"I'm really pleased," he said. "This is latest in a line of applications, firstly to get the Wildcats back on track, and now to give youngsters a place to learn, practice and develop."

"The ability to run training schools helps the viability of the club and also the opportunity to spot and nurture talent and help lads progress into the Weymouth team and beyond."

Weymouth's training schools have always been highly regarded in the past. At the old Wessex Stadium, sessions were held under the watchful eye of legendary trainer, Lew Coffin, with greats such as Simon Wigg, Martin Yeates and Steve Schofield having passed through his hands.

Training schools were then held when the Wildcats first returned to their current home, with stars such as Lewis Bridger, Brendan Johnson and Lee Smart all attending.

DORSET PREMIER LEAGUE ROUND-UP

Terras sunk by Swanage

TABLE-toppers Weymouth Reserves are out of the Dorset Premier League Cup.

The Terras were dumped at the second round stage by improving Swanage Town and Herston at Day's Park.

Simon Lander, Keith Middleton and Jacob Harrop were on target for the Swans, who cruised to an impressive 3-0 success.

Also out are holders Portland United, who were beaten in extra time by Hamworthy Recreation. A waterlogged Magna Road playing surface meant the game was switched to Canford School.

Dan Manual put Hamworthy in front after 20 minutes and it wasn't until the 70th minute that the Islanders drew level with a goal from Lloyd Cranny to take the game into extra time.

The hosts did waste a perfect opportunity to avoid the extra half hour but Rich Sands missed a penalty in the last minute of normal time. Mike Notley restored the Recreation lead in the 105th minute only for Portland to equalise again. With five minutes of the game left Jamie Moores scored the winner to put Hamworthy into the draw for round three.

Cobham eased their way into the third round with an odd goal in three victory over their visitors, Bridport Reserves. The Bees took the lead in the wind and rain but the hosts hit back with goals from Simon Mole and Nathan Brown.

Cranborne were another side to come from behind as they defeated their visitors from Sturminster Newton United. United raced into a two goal lead before the break but back came the Cranes, courtesy of Jack Smith (2), Andrew loader and Dan Adlem.

Two second half goals were enough to give Westland Sports a passage through to the third round when they beat their hosts Holt United. Dan Call put the Yeovil outfit in front with their second strike coming from Sam Farthing.

Wincanton Town were the day's top scorers, blasting sorry Sturminster Marshall 7-1

The Somerset team were in awesome form with goals coming from Bradley Peters (2), Dan Golden (2), Darren White, Alex Tremlett and Reynold Turnock.

Meanwhile the tie between Parley and Chickerell United was postponed while Sherborne Town and Blandford United meet tomorrow night (Thursday).

BLAKE BLASTS WAY TO TITLE

GEOFF Blake has taken the Bridge Tyres and Wheels Wiscombe Park Championship Young Driver of the Year Award 2009.

The Weymouth youngster in only his second season of speed hill climbing won the Ron Wilson Memorial Trophy as top young driver in finishing 22nd overall in the championship based on six meetings during the season.

Driving the Westfield SEI sports car he campaigns alongside his father Graham, who finished 32nd overall, he secured class victories during the season to bag the title. He heads towards 2010 with the prospect of a new more powerful mount, and hope that he can follow in the footsteps of this years overall champion Jonathan Wright who won the Young Driver title last year, and go on to win the series outright.

Shipton Gorge table-tennis Shipton slam Champs to go top

SHIPTON GORGE A 25 SPRINGFIELD A 12

THIS decisive win over last season's champions sent Shipton to the top of the table for the first time this season.

Richard Trim, unbeaten to date, returned to the side to pick up a maximum nine points including an impressive 3-1 win over Springfield's number one, Jon Bissett.

Gil Roberts found Gordon Bissett on top form and lost narrowly to him and son Jon but brought his points tally to five with a 3-0 win over Adam Whitehouse. Chris Glover was a 2-3 victim of Gordon Bissett, but beat Whitehouse 3-0 and was excellent in beating Jon Bissett 3-1, before combining with Trim in a more comfortable 3-0 doubles win over the Bissetts.

PRESTON A 9

SHIPTON GORGE B 28

PRESTON were no match for their visitors as Jim Saunders opened his account with a 3-0 win and went on to win his other two games by the same margin.

Dave Poole also netted a maximum score but was made to work harder with both of his first games going to five sets.

Sam Chant, in only his second match did well to score seven points and is benefiting from playing alongside his more experienced teammates. Poole and Saunders teamed up for the doubles and, after a shaky start, went on to a 3-0 win.

The Gorge is rapidly becoming a team which will be difficult to beat in division two.

TERRAS WIN IS END FOR O'BRIEN

WEYMOUTH 3 DORCHESTER 0
FA TROPHY - Attendance 1,032

FORGET bragging rights.....they don't pay the bills!
What this game was all about was good old fashioned cash, and Weymouth banked plenty thanks to a superb victory over rivals Dorchester Town in front of a big View From Stadium crowd.

Not only will the bigger than usual gate receipts come in handy, so will the prize money the Terras have earned for progressing to the first round proper of the FA Trophy.

Having been dumped out of the FA Cup at the first hurdle, new boss Ian Hutchinson knew only too well that this game presented the perfect opportunity for his side to help ease, if only fractionally, Weymouth's appalling financial woes.

The manager said: "I'm delighted. This was an important game for us and one which gave the players a chance to give something back.

"They all have mortgages to pay and mouths to feed but on the park they have a responsibility to add to the club's coffers and they did that in style today.

"I'm proud of them and I'm so pleased for our fantastic supporters who all left with big smiles on their faces."

The defeat proved costly in more ways than one for Magpies boss Roy O'Brien, who was dramatically 'relieved' of his duties after the game.

This third qualifying round was always going to be a tight affair, with both sides struggling at the foot of the Blue Square South table, and the appalling weather conditions proved an even greater leveller.

Such was the driving rain and swirling wind that every one of the 1,032 fans who braved the elements, deserved medals.

In terms of the action itself, both teams made cagey starts with all 22 players taking time to adapt to the conditions. And with the arch enemies having not played a competitive match for more than four years, there was also a period of getting to know each other.

Eventually it was the Terras who made the breakthrough on 25 minutes thanks to a rasping shot from Jake Reid after he'd been set up by strike partner, Josh Llewellyn.

Dorchester upped their game after that with Ashley Vickers heading just wide against his old club, but it was the hosts who went into the break with the advantage.

The Terras dominated the early exchanges of the second period and two goals in two minutes effectively secured the win.

First, Llewellyn was on hand in the 64 minute to volley in after a swirling effort from Jordan Rose which deceived Regan Coward had come back off the post and then in the 66th minute Simon Radcliffe had time and space to drive home a third to bury his former employers.

The Magpies didn't give up and kept searching for a way through, but time and again their efforts were foiled by a stubborn home defence and an in-form, Ryan Harrison.

In the end it was the Terras who claimed the spoils and some handy cash to help their plight.

Assistant manager Ashley Vickers was magnanimous in defeat and said: "Weymouth were the better team. We have been saying all week that the better team would win and they worked harder and had more desire - you can't take anything away from them.

"It's a real kick in the teeth, there's no worse feeling, and it was a very depressed changing room."

u Weymouth's reward is a home tie in the first round against Blue Square Premier side Salisbury City on Saturday December 12th.

TERRAS LADIES TO TAKE ON THE NAVY

WEYMOUTH FC Ladies are looking forward to staging the most prestigious ladies football fixture the town has ever witnessed when they entertain the Royal Navy team.

The match on Wednesday December 2nd (ko 7.45pm) at the View From Stadium is designed to assist the visitors preparations for the upcoming inter services competition, as well as giving spectators the opportunity to perhaps witness ladies football for the first time as well as introducing new girls to playing the sport for Weymouth FC.

The evening has been well supported so far by the business community with many reputable companies throwing their might behind the event. Dorset Build and Maintenance are the headline sponsors, Weyline are the match sponsors, McDonald's town centre restaurant are the woman of the match sponsors and there will also be match ball and champagne moment sponsors.

Weymouth FC Ladies will also be taking the opportunity to launch their partnership with the Spinal Injuries Association who is the teams preferred charity for the year. It is hoped that the team will be able to present the charity with a cheque to celebrate the new link up.

Weymouth FC Ladies manager Tim Davis commented, "It is a great privilege for my team to be able to play the Royal Navy and the girls are looking forward to the challenge. "The evening is not only about the match however, it is also raising awareness of ladies and girls football and that is why we are concentrating on encouraging the business community to get involved to support our efforts. We also want to involve businesses keen on promoting their company through having a stall on the evening which costs just £20, and those who wish to partake in networking by having a meal with other sponsors and invited guests supplied by local business and Weymouth FC Ladies sponsor Plates Away. This option is available at just £20 per person including programme mention and grandstand seat to the match. "We will also be distributing a large number of leaflets to every school throughout the area advertising the game and the admission cost for both adults and children is just £1 each".

COBHAM SPORTS 2 BRIDPORT RESERVES 1
League Cup

COBHAM Sports showed their superior fitness levels to come from behind and knock Bridport Reserves out of the League cup.

Bridport dominated the first-half but chances were at a premium as they struggled to create anything meaningful in the poor weather conditions.

Martin Bulman did give his side the lead before the break showing great awareness to pounce on Tommy Coggins 25-yard missed effort.

In the second-half Bridport began to tire and found the equaliser on the hour mark with a headed goal from a corner.

The momentum was now with the home side who piled the pressure on Bridport before taking the lead and the victory.

Manager Mike Savage said: "We beat this side in the league but I am not disappointed with the performance, we played well enough.

"We just didn't have the stamina in the second half and once they equalised I just couldn't see us scoring. If it had gone to extra time I don't think we could have got another goal.

"Sam Day, Gary Bulman and Martin Bulman all had excellent games but I want to concentrate on the league and the senior trophy now.

"We have Wincanton at home in the Senior Trophy and having lost out in the final last year I really want to win that one."

GILLINGHAM 0 BRIDPORT THIRDS 1

BRIDPORT got the only goal of the game as they recorded a battling victory in atrocious weather conditions.

Both sides played well as they struggled against the wind and rain and both created chances but in the end it was Gino Scovell's 60th minute goal that separated the two sides.

Bridport had the better of the ball in the first half and had two or three chances to take the lead but they had to wait until the hour mark.

Andy David made a run down the left before crossing in for Andy Hitchcock. Hitchcock flicked the ball on leaving Scovell an easy finish from close range.

Forty eight-year-old Mark Lock was the stand out performer on the day leading the back line to a clean sheet.

Goalkeeper Mark Bevis will have to take some credit however after making two excellent saves at the death to deny Gillingham a deserved draw.

Bridport will face Stourpaine at home this Saturday, November 28th.

Chickerell U10s 0 Bridport 6

BRIDPORT hit Chickerell for six in a game spoilt by the wind. Thomas Hyde scored inside 15 seconds to set Bridport on the path to victory and they went on to outplay them and run them with some brilliant attacking football leaving keeper Jordan Scadding a spectator for most of the time although when called on he never failed to deliver.

Riley Weedon shone for the visitors despite coming in for some heavy treatment and scored one of the goals whilst Jamie Herbert who also scored looked back to be back to his best with a strong game.

The other goals came from Callum Middleton (2) and Jedd Holt.

DORSET PREMIER LEAGUE SQUAD

RUGBY ROUND-UP

ONE seldom feels sorry for the CHARD club for, apart from anything else, they do not encourage that sentiment overmuch. I did feel a bit of a pang of sympathy last weekend however.

There was a gap in the league calendar on the 21st November and, not having a game, a trip to Twickenham to watch the All Blacks was organised. Unfortunately they were unable to play their scheduled league fixture of the previous week and were advised by the powers that be, that the game should go ahead on the 21st. Having duly cancelled their trip, they were further advised on Thursday that, owing to the lack of a qualified referee, a further postponement was necessary.

I do not know all the facts appertaining to this chaotic situation so I cannot apportion blame. I would have loved to have been about when the news of the further postponement broke however. I would, very probably, have learnt a few new expedients.

I decided that I would see how WEYMOUTH were faring back at their own ground and took myself there to watch their cup game against OXFORD.

WEYMOUTH 20pts OXFORD 10pts

WHILE Weymouth's newly laid pitch looked to be in excellent condition, there was a strong wind blowing directly across it, and that, combined with the wet ball, threatened to make this cup encounter a pretty average spectacle.

As it was, although the game was laced with errors, both sides tried to play good rugby and, furthermore succeeded for much of the time.

The early exchanges were fairly even, with both sides having difficulty in coping with the other's eight man shove at the set scrums. Weymouth did employ the driving maul to very good effect after some ten minutes and took play into their opponents' twenty two before a knock on checked their progress.

They took a lead that I thought they just about deserved after some fifteen minutes when Peplow, judging the strength of the gale well, kicked a penalty after Oxford had infringed on their own twenty two and in front.

The visitors had the chance to reply almost immediately and they duly did so after Weymouth had infringed.

The home side went through a bit of a "silly season" around the end of the first quarter when their discipline let them down.

They conceded three penalties in a row, and were sent back ten yards for "rabbit" on one occasion for good measure.

Oxford certainly gained territory during this period but could not take the lead. If there had not been too much difference between the sides during the first quarter, the second definitely belonged to Weymouth.

They scored three times during the final twenty minutes of the half and set up what was to be a winning lead. Prop Comden scored the first. His side had taken up a position close to the Oxford line and, after a couple of thrusts, he was up to take the off-load and proved unstoppable from eight feet.

The touchdown was made close to the posts and Peplow duly added the extras to give his side a 10-3 lead.

More was to come. The next Weymouth score came, more or less directly from the restart. They gathered the drop out and recycled. Peplow's chip found space and was regathered at pace by his midfield. A couple of passes set Lewendon free and he showed his number to the cover and again got over by the posts for Peplow to again convert.

Then, immediately before the break, Peplow kicked a penalty goal to give his side a 20-3 lead to take into the second half.

Given everything, I thought that it would be beyond Oxford to score three times in the second half, as they certainly needed to do. In fact the home side began the second period as they had finished the first and, although they did not score, they were in the ascendancy until the hour mark, and went close on several occasions.

At this juncture Peplow was wide with a penalty kick and this seemed to signal an Oxford revival. They mounted pressure and forced Weymouth to save and, after the home side had failed to clear, they sent the ball wide from possession gained at a five metre scrum and one of their centres touched down, although I felt that the try had more than a hint of "crossing" about it. The extras were duly added and Oxford continued to play in home territory.

Weymouth eventually cleared to halfway however and, at this juncture the whistle for no side sounded.

Weymouth certainly deserved to win this one, after a game played in difficult conditions. For much of the time they were the better side and scored two good tries to one by their opponents.

Oxford did come back at Weymouth in the final quarter when Weymouth might have lost focus a little, but their opponents' efforts were always going to be "too little, too late".

In fact it was a good weekend for the Weymouth club all round, for their second side got into the later rounds of its competition without having to take the field when its opposite numbers from Minety withdrew.

BRIDPORT 5pts DRIFTERS 27pts

THIS game was played in horrific conditions, with a gale of wind blowing rain diagonally down the ground.

The home side, with an injury list as long as an arm, played with the elements at their backs in the first half and found themselves up against a side that included an very useful out half, a couple of forceful centres and a pack that could certainly hold its own.

The game was evenly contested and the home side could only score once before the break. It came via an unconverted try, scored by winger Tom Wren.

Bridport kicked a penalty award deep, and followed well to catch the visitors' full back in possession close to the corner flag. They recycled and sent the ball along their back division for the winger to scuttle over in the other corner.

Of course, given the strength of the wind, a five point lead was not going to be easy to defend and Drifters made early inroads into it by kicking a penalty goal.

Drifters then took the lead some ten minutes into the half when an injudicious offload gave them an interception try.

Bridport were still in with a chance at 5-8 however, but, in the final quarter, pressure told and the visitors crossed their line three times. They converted two of the tries to stretch away to a deserved win.

The Bridport seconds game against a Crewkerne Vets side did not take place.

PREVIEW

THE Southern Counties League (South) has a bit of a NAAFI sandwich look about it at the moment for there are several sides near the top, several more at the bottom, and not a lot in between.

HORSE RACING ROUND-UP

SAN MARINO FLIES
HOME FOR COOMBE

WEYMOUTH trainer John Coombe had a profitable day out at Exeter Races on Friday.

The popular handler, based at Fleet near Chickerell, returned with a cheque for £3,252 in his pocket, thanks to his five-year-old stable star, San Marino.

The chestnut gelding took the opening Somerset Long Barn Novices Hurdle ahead of Dorset neighbour, Colin Tizzard's Song Sung Blue.

San Marino, a rank outsider at 25-1, made all the running and then quickened up following the third last to win by a comfortable three and three-quarter lengths.

Coombe, who also owns the horse, said: "We quietly fancied him and had a few quid on him."

"But he had been off for 20 months after kicking the walking machine at home and injured a foot, and it has taken an age to get him right again."

Song Sung Blue was one of two second places at the meeting for Sherrborne-based Tizzard and his jockey son, Joe.

The pair also took the runner's up prize in the Devon County Show Exeter Novices' Chase with Flight Leader.

Elsewhere, Bob Buckler scored a second place with Dontsayathing in the conditional jockeys' hurdle contest.

BUCKLER DISAPPOINTED
BY SAWYER MISHAP

BOB Buckler is convinced The Sawyer would have repeated I Hear Thunder's 2006 success in the Grand Sefton Handicap Chase at Aintree on Sunday had jockey Will Kennedy stayed in the saddle.

The 9/2 favourite was bowling along well just behind the leaders when he got in a bit too close at Valentines and clipped the top of the fence. Although the horse landed almost perfectly it was just enough to tip Kennedy out of the saddle and their race was run.

"I'm convinced he would have won had Will stayed aboard. He was going very easily and the one thing you know about him is that he stays, and with all the others tying up he would I am sure have won convincingly."

The winner pocketed almost £44,000.

There was further disappointment for the stable after Dontsayathing broke down after finishing second in the 2 mile 1 furlong handicap hurdle at Exeter on Friday.

The 5-year-old has been showing encouraging form with five top four finishes in his seven runs to date. Having had to switch the horse after being squeezed for room, Harry Skelton brought him with a late run but was just unable to catch the winner Strategic by ½ length.

However later he broke down and will be out for the rest of the season.

"It was another promising run but his season is over now. We are not quite sure what the problem is yet, but hopefully it is not too serious," said Buckler.

Double Dizzy ran a good race in finishing fourth in the Class 3 Allied Irish Bank Handicap Chase at Ascot on the same day. Buckler had gambled on bringing the 8-year-old back in distance, but with the good ground was outpaced at the finish.

"He likes softer ground but with the ground drying out he was running flat out over the shorter distance and just couldn't maintain the pace of the leaders at the end, but he jumped and ran well. Depending on how he recovers he may go again at Newbury on Saturday over 2 ½ miles."

Although Sean Thornton in his first run over hurdles on the same card finished at the back, Buckler was not disappointed by his run. He jumped well but then began to weaken on what was a top class track. However he then made a mistake and virtually landed on all fours which stopped him, so Nathan Sweeney just cantered him home.

Ethiopia made a return to racing after two years off having had two back operations and gave an encouraging display over hurdles at Wincanton last week finishing sixth.

"It was a super run after all that time off. He stayed on well and it bodes for the future."

Flag Flier continues to be the bridesmaid after another second at Ludlow on Monday. The chestnut mare found the ground just too soft for her and although she ran on well she just failed to catch Petroglyph.

"She wouldn't have liked the ground and it was more testing than she likes but it was a gutsy run. She kept galloping to the line and was making up ground on the winner but really needs firmer ground."

Howlin At The Moon ran too freely got boxed in coming into the straight in the bumper at Ludlow and had too much ground to make up and could only finish sixth.

CLINKER SHIELD

Balson's Bangers burnt

BEAMINSTER Social Club retained their Clinker Shield title in the 25th running of this annual sports quiz run by Symene Sports Club.

Fifteen teams competed for the prestigious toilet seat at Symondsburys on Sunday night but once again it was a two horse race with the Beaminster team of Nigel Walters, Rodney Crabb and his son Sam beating off previous winners BriPhilPinky (Kick/Clapp/Pinkett).

The event was ably hosted by this year's guest quizmaster Nick Skyrme who did a sterling job in place of regular quizmaster Richard Balson who this year captained his own side. However his Balson's Bangers got burnt as they only finished midtable.

The first quiz in 1984 was held at the Ilchester Arms and won by the team of Stuart Broom, Brian Kick and Harry Harrison who are all still competing.

HOCKEY NEWS AND REPORTS

Easy victory for Beaminster

Beaminster Ladies 4 Gillingham 0

BEAMINSTER'S confidence continues to grow as they maintained fourth spot in the Channel Division 1 with a comfortable victory over Gillingham.

Although the visitors are second from bottom, they like Beaminster have a mixture of experienced and younger players, and showed flashes of skill that undermined their lowly position.

However it was Beaminster that were dominant almost throughout the match and with some more accurate shooting, particularly from the normally reliable Megan Tuck, they could well have doubled the score. Her partnership with Jackie Gape is developing well and gave the Gills defence problems throughout the match.

Tuck scored after nine minutes but the goal was ruled out after the umpire blew for a foot offence and awarded a short corner. However the visitors failed to clear the resultant injection and the ball found Gape whose clever little lifted pass put Laura Clark in on the right of the D to score from an acute angle.

It took Gillingham 20 minutes to muster an attack as Beaminster kept them pinned in their own half, but they almost scored with a driven ball into the D which was flicked on and only missed the far post by inches.

It was only a matter of time before Beaminster scored again and on 24 minutes they doubled their lead. Tuck's turned the ball across goal from the byline after a strong run down the wing, and although Sue Clark missed the opportunity, the ball ran to Gape who drove home.

The second-half was a repeat of the first, and Gape added the third eight minutes after the break when good interplay with Tuck gave her a clear sight of goal, and although the overworked keeper got her pads to the shot it was too strong for her.

Gillingham were unlucky not to get a consolation when Sophia Brown cleared off the line and keeper Rachel Andrews did have to palm a ball away to safety but that was all the Gills could muster.

Gape completed her hat-trick and Beaminster's scoring ten minutes later when she was allowed to run at the defence and once again the power of her shot was too much for the keeper who could only deflect the ball in.

Overall it was a good team performance with everyone working hard and playing the ball around although they will find it harder no doubt against Bournemouth 3rd and 4th's their next two opponents.

Chard B 1 Beaminster 2nd 1

ALTHOUGH for the second week running Beaminster 2nds could only muster ten players, this was a much more evenly matched game than the previous week.

Beaminster went ahead after 24 minutes when captain Ali White fought through the Chard defence and scrambled the ball over the goal line. Chard levelled just before the break with a fierce shot following a short corner giving goalie Sophia Brown no chance.

In the second-half Chard had more of the run of play but were unable to capitalize.

Player of the match was Rachel Harper who demonstrated her close ball skills throughout the match with some mazy runs.

BRIDPORT AMATEUR BOXING CLUB
400 WATCH SPARKLING NIGHT

BRIDPORT Amateur Boxing Club's latest tournament didn't disappoint the crowd of almost 400 who attended Freshwater Holiday Park last Saturday night, with plenty of local fighters in the fifteen bout event, although there were only two winners.

Weymouth's Toby Osmond had a unanimous win over the taller Karl Gargett from the Apollo club whilst Bridport's Zak Wakar also won a unanimous decision after a hard fought battle with Kristian Sprangle from Plymouth Mayflower.

Unfortunately all the other local boxers lost although they were not disgraced in an action packed evening.

Ali Corston from Weymouth couldn't make it a winning start when he lost to Les Stevens of Pinewood Stars by a unanimous verdict, and Bridport's Jamie Parker found it hard against Minehead's Ricky Lewis losing by the same score.

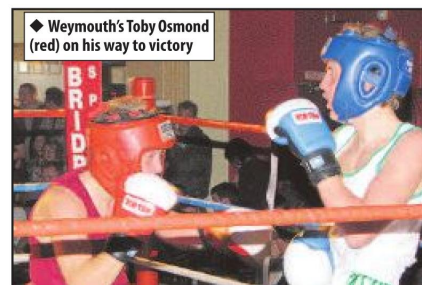

Shaun Hughes from Blandford was perhaps a little unlucky to lose by a majority decision to Rayner Mason of Poole in what was probably the most entertaining bout of the evening.

Weymouth's Storm Look found Poole's Philip Jason too strong for him and retired in the second round, whilst Sturminster Newton's Chris Pollard just lost out to Jermaine Ahmed from Mayflower by a majority decision in a hard hitting battle.

Bridport's Johnny Plyer gave a courageous display that earned him the Best Bridport Boxer award but found Gareth Kendall from Apollo too strong for him.

◆ Weymouth's Toby Osmond (red) on his way to victory

Portland's Mike Carew had his hands full with the aggressive Craig Dan who never took a step back in the whole fight, and although Carew gave a good performance the Mayflower boxer won a unanimous decision.

Unfortunately Bridport's Chris Martin was unable to send the crowd home happy in the last bout of the night losing a majority decision to Ashley Davis from Blandford.

Organiser Alan Slaney, who for the first time in 30 years was not in the Bridport corner said: "I would like to thank all the other clubs for supporting us and helped to get the tournament on. There were some cracking contests and that was down to the boxers and their clubs."

"I would like to congratulate Ashley Russell (who has taken over the main coaching from Alan at Bridport) who did a fantastic job in preparing our boxers and they all did us proud."

"I would also like to thank all of the sponsors for their support which has been brilliant."

"I think for almost 400 to turn up on such a foul night weather wise was brilliant, but I hope they enjoyed what they saw."

The next tournament is scheduled for March 13th.

Other results: Nathan Macklin (Apollo) beat Reece Deeham (Willenhall) pts maj; Rayner Mason (Poole) beat Shaun Hughes (Blandford) pts maj; Shay Sheldon (Willenhall) beat Danny Wilson (minehead) pts unan; Chris Cmerck (Devonport) beat Ben Davies (Bournemouth) pts unan; Stuart Thomas (Bournemouth) beat Philip Collin (Apollo) rsf 2nd round

EVERITT STARS IN DEFEAT AT NORTH DEVON

North Devon, 104 Bridport Evolution 59 Exeter and District League Division One

A young Bridport side were unable to get revenge on their away visit to North Devon despite an improved attacking performance.

Bridport broke the 50-point mark but allowed the home side to reach triple figures as despite their small squad they battled to the end in a fast tempo encounter.

Bridport sent out their strongest five for the start but sloppy mistakes with the ball allowed North Devon to double Bridport's output by the end of the first quarter.

Bridport drew the second period thanks to some persistent work in the key by Ross Hughes who scored five of his points in the quarter.

In the third quarter North Devon began to pull away with their MVP Gareth Ellis proving unstoppable from behind the three point line on his way to 45 points including 7 three pointers.

In the end it was a comfortable win for the home side but Bridport will take positives from the game that saw everyone on the team score and 16-year-old point guard Olly Everitt pick up MVP.

TERRAS IN TURMOIL AFTER BIG WIN

ANOTHER sorry episode in the soap opera that is Weymouth Football Club has been played out this week.

On the pitch the Terras appear to have turned the corner with Saturday's tremendous 3-0 FA Trophy victory over Dorchester Town coming hard on the heels of a league victory at Bishop's Stortford and a goalless draw with Woking at the View From Stadium.

However, off it, the up-for-sale club are fast becoming a laughing stock as they fight crippling debts and potential winding up orders.

Last week, Weymouth directors accepted a rescue bid from local finance expert Chris Ryan and his advisor, Steve Beasant. The pair were proposing to pump £150,000 into the coffers.

But, after failing to make Monday's deadline set for all the necessary paperwork to be completed, the pair then asked for an extension.

This was refused by the Terras' three-person board of Shaun Hennessy, Liz Bell and Connor Kinsella - the trio instead turned to former Cambridge United chairman, George Rolls.

by Paul Baker

Rolls had also made an offer, which featured a cash injection of £50,000 and the directors instead voted to go for this option following a meeting on Monday morning.

But that deal is now on ice after a planned press conference to announce Rolls' arrival on Monday evening, was suddenly cancelled.

In the meantime, financial director Ian Windsor has quit the board although he currently remains as Weymouth's company secretary.

One reason for the switch from Ryan and Beasant to Rolls, is believed to be the contents of an e-mail sent to the three directors early Monday morning by ex-chairman, Malcolm Curtis.

In it, the club's major creditor - he is owed more than £220,000 in loans - reminded the board of their obligations to him and others who are owed money.

Curtis, who is a director of Wessex Park Delivery, the company that owns the land surrounding the View From Stadium, says: "It is very clear the business is trading whilst insolvent and has in all probability been doing so for several months and certainly for the past three weeks. The directors are aware of this position which can best be demonstrated by the very fact of the application to the court to register a "Notice of Intent to Enter Administration".

"This as we know was granted but has been allowed to expire without any obvious remedial actions taking place. I can only presume (on the basis that professional advice was taken to initiate this action) that the current and past directors are aware of their legal responsibility to the company's creditors and the consequences of their actions in carrying on trading after this notice has expired in the full knowledge that the position has not improved.

"To be clear after having identified that in all likelihood the company is trading whilst insolvent you have a legal duty to be working in the best interest of the creditors. To continue to "trade on" in the knowledge that the company's liabilities may be growing is potentially to the detriment of all creditors."

Curtis is thought to be in favour of Rolls taking over although it remains unclear as to why the Terras board has again changed its mind.

Following Monday's frenzied activity, the future of Weymouth Football Club remains unclear.

Rolls claims he has had his offer accepted, Ryan and Beasant remain in the picture and Curtis seems determined to call in his debt, although it is understood he has come to a repayment deal with Rolls, should the ex-Cambridge United man emerge as the new owner.

But with time running out, and the sympathy of supporters and potential local sponsors, fast evaporating, it seems we're set for more bumpy rides ahead on the Terras roller coaster.

LATE BREAKING NEWS: As the View from Weymouth was going to press a statement was issued by Chris Ryan and Steve Beasant who have pulled out of the race to own Weymouth Football Club.

The pair confirmed they had been unable to reach agreement with the Terras board of directors and "can now see no point in continuing negotiations".
